RUMOR ACCOMPLICE IN SUICIDE PLOT

Mother of Dead Boy Tells of Victim's Plans For Graduation

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, June 6.—While one squad of detectives questioned girl friends of the principals, another rushed to the mountains today seeking Philip Baker, 19, asserted accomplice of Franklin J. Morrison, college youth killed during a robbery attempt Wednesday night.

A rumor that Baker had rushed to a resort cabin in the mountains and there committed suicide added interest in the search for the youth. It was not believed, however, that this report would be found correct.

Three girls, one said to be the daughter of a wealthy family, were questioned concerning their asserted friendship with Baker and Morrison. Two of them are said to have gone with the boys on a "wild party" Sunday night.

From descriptions given police and from a check of Baker's activities Wednesday night, police said, there is little doubt but that he was the handoff who leaped through a window of the Fred Harlow home and disappeared, after his young pal had fallen dead.

Thirst for excitement and the thrill which school books do not afford was given by friends and relatives of Morrison as the reason for the Loyola college student turning to a double life.

He, Baker and Irwin Sidney, another boy held for questioning in the tragedy, were friendly with a trio of girls, friends of the youths told investigating detectives. Police said they were told that the group staged frequent parties, enlivened by bootleg liquor, and Morrison, it is believed, planned the robbery exploit of Wednesday in order to be able to finance another gay time tomorrow night.

That is one picture of the dead youth. There is another of a college boy, nearing graduation, sitting at home addressing invitations to the commencement exercises.

That is what the boy was doing, just before he left the house, not to return again, according to his mother. "He was such a quiet, home-loving son," she said. "It's hard to believe he could fall into bad ways. We all had plans for his future, and now—we simply can't understand it at all."

DEER INCREASING
SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—The number of deer in California is increasing despite the fact that the country toll taken by hunters and mountain lions each year is at least 50,000. The state at present has a population of 300,000 to 400,000 deer, according to estimates of the California Fish and Game Commission.

GOLDEN, Colo., June 6.—Discovery of a headless body in a canyon near here by picnickers today is believed to have terminated the mystery of the disappearance last month of July of William B. Head, Denver jeweler.

LONDON Subway System Idle Due To Strike Lead By Communists
LONDON, June 6.—A strike which is charged to communists paralyzed London's gigantic network of subways today.

Power house workers in approximately two thirds of the city's plants overruled objections of organized labor leaders and walked out.

Not more than ten per cent of the subway trains which carry millions to and from work each day were in operation and street cars, busses and cabs were unable to handle the overflow.

Many thousands tramped to work from the suburbs.

The power house workers demand an advance of ten shillings a week and a minimum wage of three pounds a week, with one week's paid vacation each year.

Labor leaders declared the strike unofficial and charged that communist influences were

Mellon Denies Charges of Big Rum Fraud
WASHINGTON, June 6.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in a letter to the senate Daugherty investigating committee today flatly denied all charges made against him by Gaston B. Means.

Mellon declared Means' account of an alleged agreement entered into with Red Shelton of New York, whereby whisky permits were to have been issued by Mellon in return for contributions to the Republican national committee was untrue. He also said Means' testimony that he had conferred with former under-secretary of the treasury Gilbert about illegal withdrawals of liquor was false.

TRUNK CASE JURY FACES LONG DEBATE
LOS ANGELES, June 6.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Margaret Willis, "trunk murderer," will be forced to deliberate a week if necessary to reach a verdict, Judge Charles Crail told attorneys today as hours dragged by with no intimation of an agreement.

It took three weeks of the court's time to try this case and costs $300 a day to maintain a court session. The jury ought to be willing to do its part," the judge said.

WOMEN SEEK TO DELAY CLASH IN CONCLAVE
LOS ANGELES, June 6.—Leaving until next week the proposals which may germinate controversy, first resolutions to be reported to the general federation of women's clubs convention body were read today by Mrs. C. S. Selover, of Cleveland, chairman of the resolutions committee.

Propositions presented to the convention included resolutions as follows:

Endorsing the "states' use" system of engaging prisoners, both male and female, in all penitentiaries in profitable employment.

Encouraging duly qualified women to seek office as judges in specialized courts created to deal with cases of women and children because "delinquency in women and children presents a special social problem to the solution of which women can make a distinct contribution."

Endorsing the hut system for disposing of articles made by disabled veterans now used in California.

Nearly $65,000 was pledged in a few moments at the forenoon session for maintenance of the federation headquarters in Washington. The clubhouse there includes offices for federation officials and sixteen guest rooms for visiting clubwomen.

MOSQUITOS PARADISE
MAUBIN, Burma, June 6.—Maubin has the largest and most mosquitoes in the world, scientists declare. Great detachments of mosquitoes swarm out to meet every visitor. They hang in fountains from the white awnings, the mosquito nets, the table linen and the punka flaps. Every window and crevice of the European houses in Maubin is protected by sliding curtains of iron gauze.

G. O. P. RUSHES ARRANGEMENTS FOR PARLEY
(By United Press Leased Wire)
CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 6.—Senator William B. McKinley of Ohio was named chairman of the committee on credentials of the Republican national convention, according to an announcement today by William M. Butler, Coolidge pre-convention manager.

McKinley belongs to the old standard conservative group of senators. He supported the Mellon taxation plan and was one of the senators who voted to sustain President Coolidge's veto of the bonus bill.

William Mellon, Pittsburgh banker, nephew of Andrew Mellon, probably will be named treasurer of the national Republican committee, according to reports here today.

Meanwhile the hum of the political machinery of the great Republican organization increased, to the accompaniment of the clatter-bang of carpenters' hammers as Cleveland tackled up more red, white and blue bunting and dressed up and made last-minute preparations for the convention next Tuesday.

Possible vice presidents discussed today included Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois; Herbert Hoover and William E. Borah.

SOLONS CLASH AS CLOSE NEAR
BRYAN BACKS M'ADOO FOR PRESIDENT
Commoner Deserts Hand-Picked Candidate; Silent On Rum Question
(By United Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, June 6.—William J. Bryan will vote for W. G. McAdoo at the Democratic national convention and will not nominate Dr. A. A. Murphy, president of Florida university as he originally announced.

Over the long distance telephone from Fort Valley, Ga., where he was last evening, en route north, Bryan explained he is instructed for McAdoo and "will stay with him as long as he remains in the race."

"I deeply appreciate," he said, "the record vote given me by the plank of Florida, as delegate-at-large. I am glad I was instructed for McAdoo."

Silent On Plans
Informed that he was expected to seek a dry plank in the Democratic platform and make a fight for it, if necessary, on the floor of the convention, Bryan declined to discuss his plans.

During a speech at Albany, Ga., late yesterday, however, Bryan hoped he might help write the Democratic platform which, he said, would be "distinctly progressive." It is generally accepted as certain that he will repeat at New York his dramatic fight as a dry plank. McAdoo, being absolutely dry, may find the commoner the oratorical genius required to definitely turn the convention away from Governor Smith.

The debate at San Francisco between Bryan and Bourke Cochran of New York on the wet and dry issue was one of the most remarkable incidents that ever transpired at a national convention.

His coming to the New York convention assures another dramatic day for, whatever may be the subject he selects—and it probably again will be prohibition—he will speak. There is no doubt that he will be a considerable influence if he so desires, in behalf of McAdoo.

Started Murphy Boom
It will be recalled that some months ago Bryan mystified political leaders by announcing he was going to nominate a Florida son if he was elected a delegate to the convention. Later he announced that his candidate was Dr. Murphy, president of the University of Florida. Murphy issued a statement of appreciation of the honor—but that is as far as the boom went.

Recently McAdoo in a statement to the people of Florida expressed the hope that his friends would vote for Bryan as a delegate. Bryan received a tremendous vote in the primary Tuesday.

YOUTHS FACE 11 CHARGES IN MURDER
Prosecution Takes Extra Precautions to Aid Chicago Death Case
(By United Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, June 6.—Indictments against Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, formally charging them with murdering Robert Franks, 14-year-old school boy, were returned in open court today.

The indictments, which were voted late Thursday by the Cook county grand jury accused the two sons of millionaires with kidnapping Franks for ransom and with the actual murder of the youth. Both charges carry death penalties.

In an effort to destroy any possibility of the cases being thrown out of court because of faulty indictment, the grand jury returned eleven counts in the murder indictment and sixteen counts in the kidnapping charge.

Although looked upon as a certainty and a mere formality ever since Leopold and Loeb confessed, the indictments represent the actual start of the state's effort to convict and hang the two young intellectuals who, "just for the fun of it," they said, murdered young Franks and attempted to collect $10,000 ransom from his father. The boys now must stand trial on the charges.

Indictment of the two millionaires' sons followed presentation of testimony by 71 witnesses before the grand jury. For the first time since he has been in office, Crowe took personal charge of the examination of the witnesses.

"This is a most important murder case," Crowe said, "and we want to make sure there are no slips made by the state."

Crowe called every available witness, abandoning the usual custom of saving certain "star" witnesses to spring as surprises when the actual trial starts.

SPIDER WEB STOCKINGS
BERLIN, June 6.—Spider web stockings made of thread so fine that 275 miles of it would be required to make a pound of silk, are the latest fad of Berlin's "Dame Fashion." The dealers admit that after one dance to modern jazz music, however, the toes and heels of the stockings would be all out.

SHOP GIRLS SPRUCE
BOURNEMOUTH, Eng., June 6.—When Bournemouth shop girls began to dress better than the customers, managers of several leading stores provided uniforms for the girls to wear behind the counter. The employers looked upon every fall on the clerks' dresses as a thorn in the side of the buyers.

NEW LONDON FAD
LONDON, June 6.—Hair from an elephant's tail—ancient precaution against the evil eye—is London's newest fad. Charms made from elephant hair are sold in the form of rings and bracelets. A very popular bracelet has a gold clasp with an elephant in white enamel hanging from a circle of hair.

'GATOR WITH PARROTS
TAMPICO, Mexico, June 6.—The man-eating alligator which escaped from a zoo here recently was found three days later sleeping in the parrots' cage. The alligator made his escape in the night and next morning possessed the vicinity for the reptile. A general alarm was sounded throughout the city.

SCHOOL HEAD WINS SUIT OVER SALARY
(By United Press Leased Wire)
SANTA BARBARA, June 6.—A decision that superintendents of schools are hired, not elected or appointed, and are not officials was handed down here today by Superior Court Judge J. A. Bardin, of Monterey county, sitting in the suit of C. J. Stewart against County Auditor A. T. Eaves.

Stewart sued to compel Eaves to honor salary warrants granting him an increase in salary, which the auditor had refused to approve on the ground that the school superintendent is an official and therefore the salary increase was illegal under the law prohibiting such increases during tenure of office.

The decision is of interest throughout the state, there being several similar issues pending in various cities.

State Streams To Get 28 Million Trout
SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 6.—Plans to restock practically every trout stream in California by the distribution of approximately 28 million trout fry are now being contemplated by the state fish and game commission under the direction of W. H. Sheehey of the department of fish culture.

The first large shipment of baby fish will leave the hatcheries in a few days. Others will follow shortly.

FACTIONS IN FIGHT OVER PET BILLS
La Follette Group on War Path Over $150,000,000 Navy Measure
(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, June 6.—With less than 36 hours to go, a last minute rush for action on special legislation was begun in half a dozen quarters of congress today.

The La Follette Progressives went on the war path in the senate, threatening to force reconsideration of the $150,000,000 naval cruiser bill passed last night while they were out of the chamber.

Senator La Follette also indicated he would call up his resolution to provide publicity for campaign expenditures in the coming presidential campaign.

To Scan Expenditures
Under this resolution a committee of five senators would be empowered to sit all during the recess of congress to see that complete information regarding expenditures comes to public attention.

Two groups in the house swung in behind the new Hoch rate bill and the reclamation measure with a demand for adoption today so that both may be approved by the senate before the final curtain falls tomorrow night.

More important issues, such as farm relief, world court and railroad labor board abolition—along with Muscle Shoals—are now completely and finally in the discard.

The La Follette campaign expenditures resolution, which was introduced last night, is scheduled to come up today. There is no great opposition to it, as it does not regulate contributions, merely providing for a constant scrutiny.

Limits Expenses
Regulation is provided in the cable bill rider hitched to the postal salaries increase bill which has been approved by both houses. This limits senatorial candidates' expenditures to $25,000 and house aspirants to $25,000. It was adopted in place of the Borah rider for similar publicity.

There is no chance to turn back the clock and keep congress in session after 7 p. m. tomorrow. No matter who is speaking at that time, the gavel will fall and both houses automatically will adjourn sine die.

Republicans of both houses will rush to the station, where a special train will be waiting to take them to Cleveland for the convention.

Offer Reward For Looters of Grave
SACRAMENTO, June 6.—Robbery is believed by the police to be the motive for desecrating the grave of Alexander Adams, gypsy king, whose tomb in Eastland cemetery was broken into recently. Although the coffin lid was smashed, it is thought the robbers were frightened away before they took anything. Undertaker F. P. Armstrong declared that at the funeral Adams' subjects threw several hundred dollars into the casket. Only a small sum was found in the coffin when examined yesterday. Andrew Cruikshank, superintendent of the cemetery, says he saw no one throw money into the coffin except the dead man's widow, "Queen Mary." The cemetery association has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the grave robber.

Oil Prospectors Hint Standard Oil Favored In Federal Action
SANTA FE, N. M., June 6.—A government plan to turn over 5,000,000 acres of oil lands in three western states to the Standard Oil interests is charged by 222 oil prospectors who organized here today to fight the deal.

The operators are those who applied for oil prospecting permits on an addition to the Navajo Indian reservation recently opened by executive order.

The department of the interior seeks to cancel their entries and put the land up for sale in large tracts.

This course, they contend, will mean selling it to the standard oil interests, as they are the only ones prepared financially to take over large areas.

The operators assert that a similar course is planned with regard to government oil lands in Arizona and Utah, in which some 500 prospectors have filed entries.

After throwing the land open for entries on the same plan as the Navajo addition, the operators gathered here say the interior department granted permits only to the standard oil and then shut down on permits altogether.

They will go before the federal courts and before Congress if necessary to force the department to recognize their entries, it is announced.

BANKRUPTCY WAVE AIRED IN REPORT
Senate Told Half of Farmers In Kansas, Iowa Have Lost Land
(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, June 6.—Any further reduction in taxation should be planned to relieve farmers, the Federal Trade commission reported to the senate today in compliance with the Norris resolution asking detailed statistics on taxes, wealth and the ownership of tax exempt securities in the United States.

Taking 1922 for its study, the commission said taxation, while high in the North Atlantic, Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast, "was most burdensome for agricultural communities, particularly in the wheat growing states, which suffered from an unprecedented price decline for their products, while the general price level for the things which they purchase remained high."

A statement accompanying the report said:

"Reflecting the economic distress of the agricultural population, the mercantile and bank failures in Idaho, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, the Dakotas and Montana increased in much greater proportion than in the country as a whole from 1919 to 1924."

"Nearly one-fourth of all the farmers in Kansas and Iowa, nearly three out of every ten farmers in Nebraska, nearly four of ten in South Dakota, over half those in North Dakota and five farmers in every eight in Montana have either lost their property in bankruptcy or foreclosure proceedings or otherwise, or retained them only through the leniency of their creditors."

North and South Dakota had recently issued bonds for $48,000,000 to relieve agricultural distress.

"Plans for any further reduction of the present burdens of taxation should be adjusted especially with a view to the depressed condition of agriculture."

The report said that total taxes of all kinds paid by American people in 1922 were over $7,500,000,000, of which federal taxes amounted to one half. The total was an increase of 127 per cent in five years.

Suicide Attempt In Jail Foiled
FRESNO, June 6.—Frustrated in his attempt to escape from the county jail, where he is held pending sentence to state's prison, Edwin F. Bey tried to take his own life, jail attach reported. Following his arrest on burglary charges, Bey boasted to the jail attendants he would never be taken to prison. Search of his clothing revealed several pieces of hacksaw blades sewed into the linings. When jail attendants entered his cell they found he had torn strips from a blanket to make a rope and had formed a noose in one, evidently for the purpose of hanging himself. Fearing he might injure himself, he was placed under guard pending sentence. He was found guilty of first degree burglary.

DAWES PLAN IS GIVEN O. K. BY REICHSTAG
BERLIN, June 6.—The German Reichstag today formally approved the action of the government in accepting the Dawes report as a basis for settlement of the reparations problem.

The parliament adopted a resolution approving the experts' plan with only slight reservation including return of Ruhr prisoners and repatriation of those expelled from the occupied zones because of sabotage against the Franco-Belgian occupation.

Approval of the program of Chancellor Marx means a vast stride toward European adjustment as a united Germany will be behind the government in its negotiations with the allies.

SEE RADIO USE IN ELECTIONS AS CERTAIN

NEW YORK, June 6.—Presidential campaign year 1924 brings with it a brand-new puzzle for the politician. The puzzle is the radio fan. Politics is largely a matter of publicity. Since the 1920 campaign, radio broadcasting has developed into one of the greatest mediums of publicity in the land. Hence the politician's concern.

In 1920 there were but 15,000 radio receivers in the country. Now there are 5,000,000, and with loud-speakers and extra headsets probably 10,000,000 people listen in every day. To a political spell-binder, eager to sell his wares, that is an audience such as no man before, even in his wildest dreams, ever hoped to reach, writes Edward G. Lowry in the July number of Popular Science Monthly. "Indeed," he adds, "through the magic of radio, either of this year's candidates, if his line is connected with a chain of broadcasting stations, can talk through his own home or office telephone to an audience greater possibly than the total number of people who heard the voices of every presidential candidate since the time of Lincoln."

Ordinarily, 18,000,000 votes in a presidential campaign is a fine record, though in 1920, due to the heat of the campaign, almost 25,000,000 votes were cast. Take either number, and 10,000,000 radio fans are a powerful element, a fact that has convinced the managers of both leading parties that radio is a campaign bet that cannot be overlooked.

However, there are many practical problems connected with the use of radio in a political campaign. National broadcasting, involving the tying up of important telephone trunk lines, is tremendously expensive. Also, radio fans have become so used to being supplied with pure entertainment that there is no way of knowing how they will receive a heavy fare of politics. The radio listener-in, if he wearies of the speaker, can tune him out and tune in a jazz band from another station. It will take more than cold politics to hold him. A new technique in spellbinding will have to be developed if the radio fans are to be won. Possibly the radio orator may have to follow the lead of radio advertisers and provide a band or a jazz orchestra to offer entertainment as an inducement to listeners-in to hear him.

Funny Stories
"The speaker with a good string of funny stories has the advantage over the man with heavy logic. The man with a brief message, full of interesting facts, is listened to, where the windbag with an hour of flowery oratory talks to empty space, for a radio puts the acid test on policies, issues, and men. Volume of voice, graceful gestures, or the all but hypnotic effect of a powerful personality will not make up for lack of logic, coherence, and a clear-cut, convincing message in a radio speech."

All signs point to radio exerting a most profound influence in the presidential campaign of this year, and wider use of radio for political purposes can be predicted for the future. Each year there will be more receivers; hence, a larger audience for the radio spell-binder. Radio may elect our next president, and who dares say that through radio, through the better understanding of politics and political issues that it will bring to the average man, some day may not be realized the long existing dream of patriots—a perfect government?"

Pays $50 Fine After Jail Stay Alters Decision

Three days in jail was enough for Pete Soto, who was placed behind the bars Monday when convicted of the illegal possession of intoxicating liquor and who decided to "work out" his sentence rather than pay the fine levied by City Recorder W. F. Heathman. Today Sheriff Sam Jernigan sent Heathman $50 from Soto, with the explanation that the prisoner considered it a cheap price for freedom.

E. E. Johnson, arrested for his second alleged offense of being drunk, paid a fine of $25 in the recorder's court.

Traffic violations for the day netted the city $42 in fines. Roy A. Parker was assessed $15 for traveling 28 miles an hour at Fifth and Artesia streets. Otis Davey paid $15 for speeding across another intersection. It cost B. O. Purinton $5 for parking overtime in the two-hour zone. Eddie Dickson gave Heathman $3 for parking his car in front of a private driveway, and Kurt Epstein of Anaheim, and J. W. Martin of Huntington Beach, dug up $2 apiece for parking in the restricted district here.

YOUNG MATRON IN AUTO CASE IS REBUKED

(Special to The Register)

ORANGE, June 6.—"Your fine would have been lighter had people who have no connection with the case stayed out of it entirely," City Recorder G. W. Ingle here today declared as he imposed a fine of $10 on Mrs. Marvel Hill of Santa Ana, who was arrested Sunday by Officer George Peterkin, charged with speeding 28 miles an hour across an intersection. "We do not conduct this court to let people out of every trouble they get into, and all who have that impression will be better off if they find out their mistake before they are brought before my court."

Mrs. Hill was given until next Friday to raise the money to pay her fine, with the alternative of spending ten days in the county jail should she fail to pay. The advice of Judge Ingle was given after several asserted attempts on the part of friends of the young woman had failed to get her "off" from the charges. She was also charged with operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license.

Six other drivers appeared in court today and varied fines of from $3 to $15 for various offenses. H. E. Goodro of Ontario was fined $3 on charges of making a left turn at the plaza here.

E. Forster of Los Angeles was fined $5 on charges of passing another machine at an intersection. W. Seeborg of San Diego also paid a $5 fine for the same offense.

C. L. Greer of this city paid a $15 fine on a charge of dashing across an intersection at high speed of 40 miles per hour. Theodore Orick of San Pedro paid a fine of $15 on charges of speeding 45 miles per hour across an intersection.

G. Hadley of this city was fined

Put off Trial of Woman in Bigamy

Failure of Juana Rendon, Mexican woman living at Owensmouth, to appear in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court today for arraignment on a charge of bigamy, caused the case to be postponed for one week. The arraignment was continued to next Friday at 9:30 a. m.

Mrs. Rendon or Mrs. Gonzales, as she became in entering her alleged marriage to Angel Gonzales, of Owensmouth, was arrested some weeks ago on complaint of M. Rendon, who claims to be her first husband. Rendon states that he married her in Mexico.

The alleged marriage to Angel Gonzales, on which the bigamy charge is based, took place in Santa Ana last fall.

At her preliminary hearing in this city recently, when she was held for trial, Mrs. Rendon was allowed her liberty on her own recognizance.

$20,000 Loss in Rock Plant Blast

NAPA, June 6.—Damage amounting to more than $20,000 was done at the newly established quarry of S. H. Errington east of this city, when a barrage of huge boulders, thrown through the air by blasting, tore a rock laden bunker weighing 500 tons from its foundation, moved it ten feet northward, and set it down on two practically new motor trucks, flattening them out.

The bunker was located about seventy-five yards from the site of the blasting operations, and was considered solid and safe.

GOOD NEWS FOR AILING WOMEN

Much has been said for and against proprietary medicines by the medical profession. It will interest every woman to know that in a recent country-wide canvass of over 121,000 purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as to the results received from its use, the replies showed that ninety-eight out of every one hundred women had been benefited by its use. Therefore every sick and ailing woman owes it to herself to give this remarkably successful remedy a fair trial.

DRAMATIC SOPRANO WILL BE ASSISTED BY NOTED DANCER AND TENOR IN S. A. RECITAL

Hundreds Are Expected to Greet Eleanor Woodford
Here June 17

The recital which Eleanor Woodford, dramatic soprano, recently announced she was planned for this city to herald her return after an absence of five years, will be given at the Temple Theater at 8:30 o'clock on the night of June 17, she announced here today.

Assisting Mrs. Woodford will be Lillian Gunther, one of Southern California's most prominent interpretative dancers, and Victor Edmunds, tenor, who is being acclaimed as one of the West's most artistic singers.

Hundreds of Santa Anans, who first became familiar with the beauty of Mrs. Woodford's voice during three years that she was soloist at the First Presbyterian church of this city, are expected to attend the recital and give her an enthusiastic welcome.

Press notices which Mrs. Woodford received during tours of the East have been warm in their praise of her voice, which is of an unusual warmth, depth and power.

The Detroit Free Press said: "Eleanor Woodford, the popular soloist, was received with great enthusiasm. Her charming personality and wonderful voice afforded a rare treat to music lovers and won her many friends."

Victor Edmunds, who has sung in Santa Ana with marked success, is a young Welshman. He recently came to Southern California to make his home. He has an exceptionally smooth and beautiful tenor voice, and sings with great authority and finish, according to the many who have heard him. His intelligent interpretation and the way in which he handles his voice, show him to be a singer of wide experience.

Lillian Gunther, who has been

LOCAL EDITORS MAY VACATION AT CATALINA

Several Orange county newspaper editors are expected to attend the annual outing of the Southern California Editorial association, which will be held at Catalina Island for a week beginning June 20, according to word received here today from J. R. Gabbert, president, at Riverside.

The program for the outing will consist of tours of the island, boat rides, bathing and hikes during the day and business meetings at night, chiefly, and is a program that calls for a real vacation for editors who attend.

According to programs received here business sessions of the association will be held only for the first three days of the outing in order to allow members who desire to do so to return to their work at the end of the week. The remainder of the week will be utilized in enjoying the recreations Catalina affords.

Members have been asked to leave the Wilmington dock Friday, June 20, at 10 a. m. At 7:30 p. m. the annual association banquet will be served at the Hotel St. Catherine. At 10 a. m. Saturday, the editors will view the marine gardens. A special trip will be made Sunday to Seal Rocks, while on Monday an automobile trip has been planned over the island.

Governor Friend W. Richardson, who for the past several years has attended the annual outings, has made reservations, according to Gabbert, and will be present with two members of his family.

Operated On For Appendicitis

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS TO BE ANNOUNCED LATER

Many times, no doubt, you have seen the above headline in your newspaper. Very often it has told of some friend suddenly stricken with dread appendicitis. The newspapers, however, neglect to state that appendicitis is usually preceded by stomach trouble. They don't tell you that the afflicted person suffered frequent attacks of heartburn long before he went to the hospital.

While heartburn is not always a sign of an inflamed appendix, it is always a warning, that something is wrong. In many cases it results from indigestion, which is one of the predisposing causes of appendicitis.

If you suffer from a burning, gnawing sensation in the stomach, excessive gas, sour stomach, nausea or other distress after eating, go at once and obtain a bottle of Smith Bros' M. A. C., the guaranteed stomach treatment. This pleasant, harmless liquid rids the stomach of catarrhal mucus, allays inflammation, helps digestion and cleanses the bowels of poisonous waste matter. Price $1.25. Money back if the first bottle does not relieve. C. S. Kelley Drug Store will supply you. (Mail orders accepted.)

Lovely Garden Scene At Claremont For Wedding Event

Attracting scores of friends from all the southern part of the state was a beautiful garden wedding in Claremont Wednesday afternoon when Miss Ruth Schroeder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schroeder, 1721 Bush street, became the bride of Howard Pattee of Claremont at the lovely Spanish home of his sister, Mrs. Hortense Watkins.

Invitations issued several weeks ago, indicated that the affair was to be truly a fiesta, since "el jardineño" or "the dear little garden" of the home was designated as the setting for the function at 4:30 o'clock.

And just at that hour, the hundred and twenty-five guests assembled, heard the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, whose bright joyousness seemed particularly appropriate and which was played by Mrs. Helen Stedman of this city. As the bride paced across the lawn from the "casita del jardin," the pretty summer house on the spacious grounds, she was escorted by a bevy of lovely children, all mall nieces and nephews of herself and Mr. Pattee. With the three small bridesmaids, less white and the little maids in pastel tinted frocks of crisp organza, they were a charming bit of the scene and scattered blossoms in the grassy path of the bride.

The children were Anna Claire Mauerhan, Ruth Gruenwald, Leola Schroeder, Wesley Marquart, Bobbie Witt and Wallace Watkins. Miss Schroeder was lovely in a draped gown of Spanish lace over satin, her sole ornament a string of exquisite pearls, the present of Mr. Pattee. A long veil of tulle fell from a dainty arrangement of orange blossoms and she carried a cluster of bride's roses with maiden hair fern, showered with lilies of the valley.

Her attendants were Miss Eunice Jones of this city as maid of honor, who wore apple-green voile with a lovely picture hat to correspond, and two bridesmaids, Miss Helen Iredale of Long Beach and Miss Mildred Mauerhan of Anaheim, gowned alike in peach color voile with picture hats. All three carried lavender and pink sweet peas, tied with tulle.

John Baumgartner, a college friend of Mr. Pattee's, was best man and ushers were Harry Goodwin, Ray Marman and William Howard, all prominent in Pomona college circles. As the bride and her attendants approached from the "casita del jardin," they were met by Mr. Pattee and his best man, at a lovely spot overlooking the lily pool where tall spikes of many-colored gladioli added to the picturesqueness of the setting. Wedding vows were taken before the Rev. J. M. Schaffel of the Congregational church in Los Angeles, an uncle of Miss Schroeder. During the reception and garden party which followed, the bride stood on an upper balcony and tossed her bouquet into the group of guests where it was caught by Miss Eunice Jones, her honor maid.

Wedding guests had been greeted by Mrs. Watkins, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Pattee, mother of the groom and Mrs. Schroeder, mother of the bride. All were interested in the display of gifts which included handsome pieces in Sheffield silver, crystal, fine linens and countless other beautiful articles which filled one of the spacious rooms.

Refreshments including bride's cake and other varieties, all home-made, and iced catered with a pink heart, were served on the lawn.

Leaving for Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Pattee were to continue their journey to Washington, D. C., and finally New York City where Mr. Pattee will take special work at the teachers' college of Columbia University. At the close of the summer they will return to California where Mr. Pattee will resume his work at the George Junior Republic and where a charming bungalow has been placed at their disposal.

Guests from this locality who attended the nuptials were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schroeder and two children, Leola and Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gruenwald and little daughter Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marquart and young son Wesley, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Witt and children Velma and Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holzgratz, Miss Helen Kubitz, Miss Esther Zimmerman, Lavina Opp, Frances Rohrs, Freda Schroeder, Emma Schroeder, Eunice Jones, Vena Jones, and Mrs. Helen Stedman of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. William Mauerhan and children, Mildred, Grace, Anna Claire and Clarence of Anaheim and Miss Ruth Hickox of Laguna Beach.

The great event of next week will be the hard-time picnic at Orange county park on Wednesday, June 11, to which the Knights of Columbus and their families are invited, everybody to be in appropriate costume and prizes to be awarded for various stunts.

The picnicers will take basket lunches for themselves and friends, and the committee, of which Miss Frances Hillman is chairman, will provide coffee. WASHINGTON, June 6. — A treaty was signed today between the United States and Canada providing for Canadian co-operation in combating rum and drug smuggling, along the northern border.

Travelers to Hawaii Delightfully Feted At Colonial Club

"Bon Voyage" was never wished more charmingly to a group of departing travelers, than on Wednesday night when Mrs. Mary S. Cloyes and Miss Inez Cloyes entertained at Colonial Club for a little party of Santa Anans who leave early in the week for Hawaii.

Mrs. Clarence Skiles, Mrs. F. F. Smith, Miss Minna Smith, Miss Pauline Parsons and Miss Margaret Orr composed the "little party" of voyagers while others in the group were the hostesses, Mrs. Cloyes and Miss Cloyes and their niece and cousin, Miss Susan Cloyes of Long Beach.

The formal dining-room at Colonial club was reserved for the party and there every appointment suggested the sea voyage. The table was centered with a huge plateau simulating the bounding deep, and on it small relief maps of California, the Hawaiian Islands and Japan were formed, with appropriate flags on each country. Vessels were sailing the ocean whose outer shores were buried beneath massed nasturtiums in vivid orange and red tones. The same flowers outlined the table in unique effect, and additional color was lent by the corsage bouquets marking each guest's place.

The entire scene was very lovely in the soft glow of candle light. A special southern dinner of baked ham, sweet potatoes and kindred dishes was served impeccably amid at the close of the four courses, steamer letters were showered on the five honorees.

Leaving Colonial club, the party repaired to the Smith home where mah jong was enjoyed and the evening was finally brought to a close at the Masonic temple where all enjoyed the illustrated lecture on his eastern trip presented by W. M. Clayton of the high school faculty.

Church Societies In Joint Social Affair

Attended by more than 100 young people representing virtually every Christian Endeavor and Epworth League society in Santa Ana churches, the joint social affair held last night at the Y. M. C. A. building was a most enjoyable occasion.

Games were played and each society was on the program for several varieties of stunts, which furnished much of the entertainment, while the musical numbers were considered unusually good, and consisted of two whistling solos by Miss Mildred Marchant, representing the Baptist Alumni Christian Endeavor society; bagpipe quartette, Homer Anderson, Norvin Brothers, Harlan Pearl and Howard Youle; violin solo, Ralph Greer, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. G. N. Greer; xylophone solo, Miss Lizzetta Phillips, accompanied by Miss Glenda Mae Waggoner; whistling solo, Ray Millman; vocal solo, Albert Kuechel.

Following the program, Y. M. C. A. group songs were sung under the leadership of Merle Ramsey, accompanied on the piano by Miss Thelma Green of Placentia.

The gathering was the first of several social affairs to have been planned as a part of the Y. M. C. A. summer entertainments, which according to Y. officials are promoted for the purpose of creating mutual acquaintance and friendship among the church organizations.

Loyal Helpers

Hewes park was the charming setting last night for a picnic supper enjoyed by members and guests of the Loyal Helpers class of the Congregational church, who to the number of thirty-five, motored to the park for a lively affair. Bright pansy faces peeped from among the various delicacies with which picnic tables were laden and at 6:30 all were seated for the bountiful supper. Each place had a clever conundrum whose propounding gave rise to various amusing answers and kept things lively for awhile. Cheerful little talks were given by Dr. C. G. Huston, Sunday school superintendent and J. A. Cranston, class teacher, while a much enjoyed reading was given by Mrs. Hicks.

Several guests were entertained including Dr. and Mrs. Huston, Mrs. McIntosh, a house-guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cranston, Mrs. E. S. Lord and many happy children.

Clean dancing at Huntington Beach every night except Monday. Great music.

Double L Club

The attractive home of Mrs. Edward T. McFadden on East Seventeenth street, was placed at the disposal of her sister, Miss Verdelle Breckenridge recently, for entertaining the members of the latter's club, the Double L club, composed of maids and young maids.

Lovely garden flowers were used effectively to adorn the rooms where the guests engaged in needlework and chat. Miss Jennie Pollard was warmly welcomed after an absence of several months in New York City and other Eastern points. Accounts of her eastern experiences brought Broadway and Fifth avenue very near and were intensely interesting to all.

She was accompanied home by her cousin, Miss Jessie Pollard of Buffalo, who was a pleasant guest of the club.

Late in the evening Miss Breckenridge asked the members to the dining room where dainty cards arranged table and where the hostess assisted by Mrs. McFadden, served a pleasing little supper menu.

Plans were made for a buffet dinner to be enjoyed at the next club affair, the members and their husbands or man friends to dine with Miss Pollard and later motor to the beach where dancing will complete the evening's gaiety.

Members entertained by Miss Breckenridge were Mrs. Carl Edgar, Mrs. Leo Schmiedberg, Mrs. J. H. Daniger and the Misses Nora Lykke, Ruth Robertson, Jennie Pollard, Jessie Pollard, Marguerite Galbraith and Emma Douglass.

Surprise Is Planned To Honor Special Anniversaries

A happy event of recent date was the little surprise which a group of friends staged in honor of the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Kingrey and Mr. Kingrey's birthday.

The Kingreys have been at Balboa Beach where they have enjoyed a little vacation at the cottage of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. L. Crasher. Tuesday night they were enjoying the beat of the waves and the many pleasures of an evening on the shore when they were surprised by the Santa Ana group who had learned of the importance of the date.

Progressive rook offered a merry evening and at a late hour a large cake bearing greetings in pink icing, was presented to the hosts. This was served with ice cream which the merry-makers were thoughtful enough to take with them.

Flowers were showered on the honorees also, sweet peas being given to Mrs. Kingrey and carnations to Mr. Kingrey.

Enjoying the evening with them and their sons were Mr. and Mrs. L. Crasher, Mrs. Roy C. Butler and son Junior, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hall, Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Crain, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. Maude Lash and son James.

The thirty graduates with faculty members and guests, then went to the Garden cafe in Los Angeles where a pleasant affair was staged with an appetizing supper as part of the program.

Realtor's Auxiliary

One of the merriest of their many lively gatherings, was enjoyed last night by members of Santa Ana Realty Board auxiliary when they entertained their husbands and families at a picnic supper at Orange County park.

Over half a hundred were in the party to gather around the tables beneath the soaring trees of the park and enjoy a supper of fried chicken, hot hamburger sandwiches, salads, baked beans, cakes and pies galore, and steaming coffee prepared under the skillful direction of Frank Harris. The tables were rendered attractive by sprays of plumosis fern and vivid corseops and many impromptu toasts made the supper hour a gay one.

Tom Talbert, county supervisor, with Mrs. Talbert were among the guests and the former was one of the speakers as was J. Wiley Harris, each giving clever and humorous talks. Mrs. John Newcomer had the plans for the evening in charge as she is vice-president of the auxiliary and in the absence of Mrs. Frank Pope, the president, conducted the business affairs. She was highly commended for her plans and their successful carrying out.

SOON FORGETS HER HEADACHE

South Carolina Woman Takes Black-Draught and Her Children's Families Are Following Her Good Example

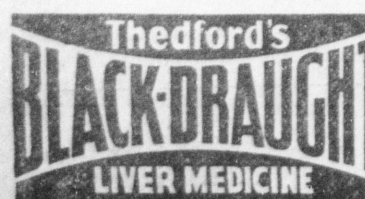

Clifton, S. C.—"I am 57 years old," Mrs. Marjhan Blanton recently told a visitor at her home at the foot of the mountains near here. "I have a grown family. I have used Black-Draught for at least twenty-three years."

Mrs. Blanton was spinning thread on an old-fashioned spinning wheel and showed her visitor some hose that she had been knitting from yarn that she herself had spun. She stopped work long enough to speak interestingly of her long experience in the use of Theford's Black-Draught.

"I buy Black-Draught in the mammoth packages," she said, "and use it in my family. I first used Black-Draught for constipation and found it good for that. I used it for headache, indigestion and colds."

"I can have a headache, take a good dose of Black-Draught and in two hours I will forget that my head ached. I use it when I have the tired feeling. I have used it all these years with my children. My daughter, Mrs. Deaton, and my son Horace, use Black-Draught in their families all the time. I can't say enough for the good it has done."

Try Black-Draught. The mammoth package contains five small ones.

CALL DENTIST TO STAND IN OWN BEHALF

Dr. R. E. Whitted was scheduled to take the witness stand this afternoon in Superior Judge F. C. Drumm's court to testify in his own defense against a statutory charge, for which he has been on trial during the past four days.

When the state rested its case, shortly before noon today, defense attorneys stated that Dr. Whitted would testify. His appearance was expected this afternoon and it was predicted that the case would go to the jury before tonight.

The prosecution's case was abbreviated today when Judge Drumm ruled that evidence of alleged similar offenses, not connected with the 17-year-old girl who is complaining witness in the present case, was inadmissible.

The anticipated issue was joined when court opened today and District Attorney Nelson sought to summon to the witness stand one of the five children, aside from the 17-year-old girl, who would testify, he claimed, to offenses similar to that charged at the present trial. The witness summoned was a 14-year-old boy.

Nelson addressed the court stating his purpose in calling the witness but was sharply and hurriedly interrupted by Defense Attorneys Bishop and Davis when he mentioned "like offenses." The defense refused to permit him to continue his explanation in the presence of the jury, which was then excused while the defense objection was argued. This argument occupied the entire morning session.

The defense concluded its successful attack against the proposed testimony when Attorney Bishop cited a recent supreme court authority in support of his stand, holding that the constitutional rights of the defendant would be invaded by admission of such testimony.

The prosecution had argued that the testimony was admissible on the grounds of showing a "system or plan," also the asserted disposition of the defendant toward such offenses as that charged.

With the ruling the prosecution rested its case and court was adjourned to 1:30 p. m. when the defense asked to have a map of Dr. Whitted's dental suite made by the county surveyor, so that it might be submitted in court this afternoon.

EPISCOPALIAN RECTORS ARE GUESTS HERE

The Friars, an association of Southern California Episcopal clergymen, met here yesterday at the guests of the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, rector of the Church of the Messiah. The meeting was held at the rectory, 1504 Bush street.

Seven of the twelve members were present. Departure from the rule was taken, and C. G. Twist, senior warden of the Santa Ana church, was the first layman to be privileged to "sit in" at the dinner, which was served at 6:30 p. m. Mrs. Benton served the dinner. Some merriment was caused when the guests were obliged to find their places at the table by means of humorous descriptions of themselves.

Following dinner, the Rev. Philip A. Easley of Hollywood, presented a review of the book, "What Is the Kingdom of Heaven?" by Clifton Brock. A discussion followed.

Those present besides the Santa Ana rector were the Rev. Philip A. Easley of Hollywood; the Rev. John Atwill, San Gabriel; the Rev. Ray O. Miller, Los Angeles; the Rev. Stephen C. Clark Jr., Pomona; the Rev. C. Rankin Barnes, South Pasadena, and the Rev. Robert Windsor, Los Angeles.

WALNUT GROWERS PLAN 1924 MEET

Discussion of the present status of the walnut market and reports of officials and committees are scheduled for the annual meeting of the Richland Walnut Growers' association which will be held in the company's warehouse at Orange, tomorrow at 1:30 p. m., according to an announcement made here today.

The program for the meeting calls for several addresses from prominent walnut experts in the Southland, including L. D. Batchelor of the experiment station at Riverside; Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers' association; W. B. Hooper, walnut specialist of the University of California, and W. T. Webber, sales manager of the state association.

The production of the Richland house last season was 600 tons, netting the growers $250,000.

James A. Smiley, president of the association, will preside at the meeting.

Youth in Forgery Charge Admission

Pleading guilty to a forgery charge, Walter N. Ledbetter, 21, of Olinda, today asked Judge F. C. Drumm in superior court here for probation. The hearing on his application was set for Friday, June 20, at 9:30 a. m.

Ledbetter admitted an attempt to pass a forged check for $25.40 at a bank in Placentia. He was represented by Attorney O. A. Jacobs.

First Prize in Contest $15,000

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 6.—A national essay contest for the school children of America, with hundreds of local contests in as many cities and communities throughout the country, was announced at the National Electric Light association convention here. The plan calls for the awarding of three main national prizes: the first prize a $15,000 house, the second prize a $10,000 house, and the third prize a $5,000 house, each to be built upon the lot selected by the winner of the prize or his or her parents.

The national contest is sponsored by the National Electric Light association, but is a co-operative movement backed by every branch of the electric light and power industry—manufacturers, contractors, jobbers and dealers, as well as electric light and power companies.

MEETINGS HELD AS STUDENTS' CONDUCT HIT

Two mass meetings of students and parents of students in the junior high and high schools of Santa Ana were being held this afternoon, at which time J. A. Cranston, superintendent of public schools, and others planned to tell parents of reports that have come to them from various sources of asserted misconduct on the part of pupils in Santa Ana schools.

The sessions, it was understood, were for the purpose of stopping reported "wild" rides, and "boozing parties" laid at the door of young students by informants who have taken their stories to school authorities.

One meeting which began at 2:30 p. m. was being held in the auditorium of the Frances E. Willard Junior high school on North Main street, and the other meeting was to be held at 3:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the high school. Prospects of a thorough investigation following the meetings loomed, as Cranston stated today that he was going to "shoot straight from the shoulder" in telling parents of the reports that have come to him regarding the conduct of several students.

Cranston hinted that the district attorney's office might be brought into the affair concerning the asserted violation of liquor laws and the selling of prohibited goods to minors.

Through an aeroplane delivery service recently inaugurated people in the North of Ireland are enabled to read the London morning papers at the breakfast table.

CUTTLE FISH INK

A cuttle fish hides from pursuers by squirting a liquid into the water that discolors it. The Romans saw this fish for ink. Thousands of years before Christ the Egyptians had made an ink brew of nuts from certain trees to record matters in their papyrus scrolls. To-day, commercial ink combines acids, iron, and gum. Colored inks have coal tar dyes added. Indelible inks are made so chiefly by the addition of salts of silver. India ink has suspended in it finely divided bits of carbon. Printer's ink with its linseed oil varnish makes countless thousands think. A large Eastern paper's Sunday issue uses over five tons of this ink on its Rotogravure section alone. What a smear!

S. A. STUDENTS DO ART WORK ON ANNUAL

Copies of the 1925 Metate, published annually by the junior class of Pomona college, Claremont, were received here today by parents and friends of Santa Ana students there.

The cover design was drawn by Frances Egge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Egge, and the border design was by Miss Marie McNaught, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McNaught, all of this city. Art designs and cartoons used in the publication were also produced by the two Santa Ana girls.

Comprising 246 pages, the publication contains college history for the year, pictures of the graduating class and various group pictures.

Commencement exercises will be held June 16, when Ralph James Ralitt, Elizabeth Bruner, Theodore Otto Gilbank, Dorothea Katherine Smith, Ivan J. Carey, Dorothy Carothers and Mary Covington, of Santa Ana, will graduate.

Gilbank was here today completing preparations for leaving by automobile tomorrow morning for Camp Lewis, where he will enter the reserve officers' training camp for six weeks of intensive training. At conclusion of the training period Gilbank will receive a commission as second lieutenant in the reserve infantry. He is accompanying Captain J. T. Grose, head of the military department of Pomona college.

Leaving Camp Lewis, the Santa Ana man will go to Vancouver, where, according to present plans, he will meet his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gilbank, and accompany them on a visit to points in Canada. Three or four weeks will be spent at Toronto. From the latter point the student will go to Cambridge, Mass., to enter Harvard law school for a graduate course of three years.

Strew Flowers In Paths of the Living

The flower-laden people were wending their way To the City of Silence where dear comrades lay To strew o'er the graves of the blue and the gray The tributes of love from the living.

When "taps" had been sounded, the sweet labor done, And all save some sorrowing mourners had gone, A heavenly radiance o'er the spot shone— The dead seemed once more to be living.

They looked on the flower-mounds with dimmed angel eyes; They spoke, but their voices were broken with sighs; Then turning their faces again toward the skies, Cried, God help them be kind to the living."

There are hearts that are breaking and making no sign; There are lips that have tasted the hemlock and wine; There are souls crying out for Love's benison divine— Cast flowers in the paths of the living.

There are children who need to be clothed and be fed; There are erring who need from wrong paths to be led— Not with anger, but wise loving counsel instead; Oh, teach them the beauty of living.

There are aged and helpless, the sick and the sore Whose joys have departed, earth's pleasures are o'er, Whose life-boats are nearing eternity's shore— Strew flowers in their paths while still living.

Though the earth yields its stores for humanity's need Its children are crushed by the strong hand of greed, And Christ is in sermon and doctrine and creed, But not in the deeds of the living.

Far better than garlands, and incense, and prayer, Or tears for the dead, who are free from all care, Are the beautiful Christ-deeds beyond all compare— Strewing flowers in the paths of the living.

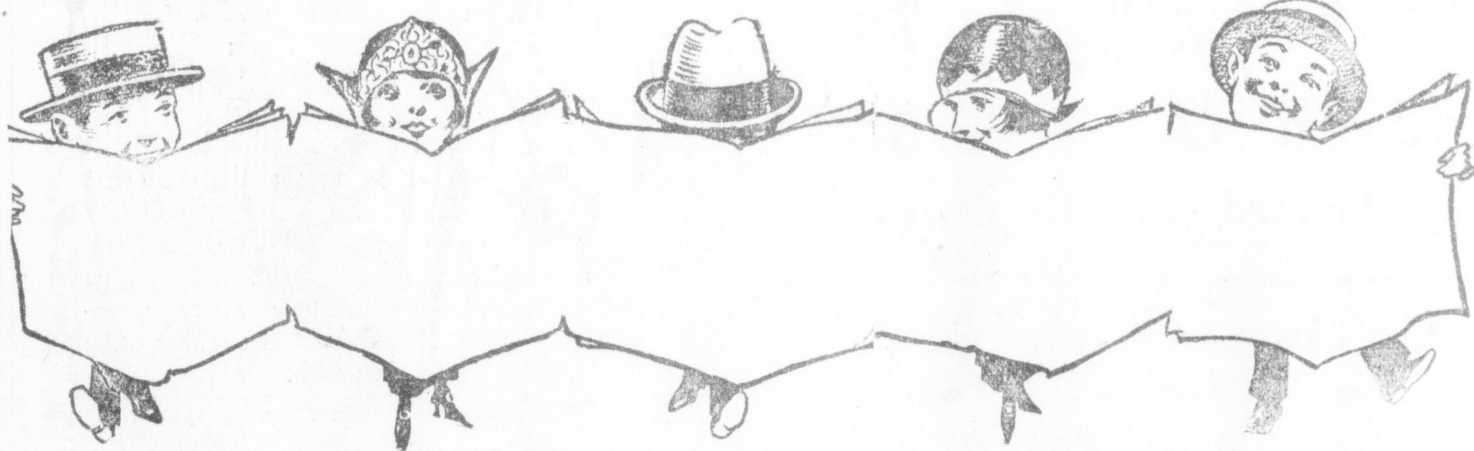

Strew flowers of Peace 'till the nations have learned That the "Kingdom" they've prayed for and constantly yearned, Will come when from War all their hearts have been turned, And the "Campfires" of Peace light the living.

(These verses, excepting the last, which was written this year, were written and published in 1902 by Mrs. Julia A. Garrison, of Santa Ana.)

Russia was too optimistic in its claims about revival of its foreign trade. Exports and imports last year totaled only 147 million dollars (figured in our money), compared with 298 millions the year before.

In 1920 Russia's foreign trade was 150 millions, or 3 millions larger than in 1923. It grew to 1500 millions in 1923.

Need of Closed Cars For Club "Play Day"

That more closed cars were needed from this section for the long-anticipated "Play Day" for delegates to the biennial of the National Federation of Women's clubs in Los Angeles, was revealed here today when prominent clubwomen bewailed the fact that more generous citizens were not offering their closed cars to convey visitors over the county and to Laguna Beach for a barbecue dinner and survey of the studios.

The Orange county trip is one of the most popular of the many pleasant outings, devised for the entertainment of visitors from the east and while limited to 200 who may take the trip, those 200 must be provided for. All plans are completed by hospitable Laguna Beach for the big barbecue dinner, and now if Santa Ana will only respond to the demand for cars, everything will be smooth sailing. Acting as hostesses for the day, will be a little group of prominent women of the community, including Mrs. William Deimling, Mrs. Alex P. Nelson, Mrs. Hervey T. Trueblood of this city and Mrs. R. Clarkson Colman of Laguna Beach. The sessions of the biennial women from the clubs of the city, especially the Eboli society and Santa Ana Woman's club. ### MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestives, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two of tablets of Bismarck Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer trouble them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bismarck Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bismarck Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.—Adv.

$45,000 PLEDGE FOR MOUNTAIN HIGHWAY IS REVEALED

Capistrano Boosters Air Plans to District All Beaches For $55,000

WOULD TAP INTERIOR

Expect Riverside County Action to Follow As Solons Here Move

Plans have been partially completed for creating a fund of $100,000 to build the Orange county sector of the proposed highway across the mountains from San Juan Capistrano to Elsinore. W. E. Alexander, secretary of the San Juan Capistrano Chamber of Commerce, disclosed here today. A committee of the Chamber was scheduled to meet at Elsinore today at 4 p. m. with a committee of the Chamber there, he also announced, to discuss further plans for furthering the project.

Alexander revealed that at a conference held here between the board of supervisors and prominent men of the Mission city, the supervisors promised to make an appropriation of $45,000 towards the cost, if the balance of the needed capital was made available from another source.

Plan Special District. Suggestions were made at the conference, it was said, that the balance of the capital could be raised by the creation of an assessment or special road district, the district to embrace property along the coast from San Juan Capistrano to Huntington Beach. Such a district, it was believed, would have to be created by act of the supervisors.

Following the conference with the county solons, San Juan Capistrano men at once resumed enthusiastically the campaign to accomplish the project of building a highway connection between the beach of the south end of the county and the interior of Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

Those named on the committee to meet at Riverside today were Aaron Buchheim, F. F. Rogers, J. L. Hunter, Frank and John Forster, P. A. Staffell, Carl Hankey, F. S. Kelly, Alexander and D. P. Morgan.

Move Is Surprised. It was recalled here that at a meeting held by the Elsinore Chamber of Commerce recently, at which were present a number of representative men from Orange county the ardor of boosters for the highway was believed to have been dampened somewhat when T. B. "Albert" chairman of the local board of supervisors said it probably would be some time before the county could offer financial assistance to the project.

He emphasized the fact of heavy expenditures made by the county in fighting the hoof and mouth disease and in executing a program of erecting county buildings without recourse to a bond issue. He indicated that it might be two or three years before cash would be available for the mountain highway.

LEADING WOMAN SEES ONLY SUCCESS FOR "WISE FOOLS" PLAY PLAYERS TO PRESENT

Three outstanding features mark the production of "Three Wise Fools" which the Santa Ana Community Players are to present the nights of June 9 to 12 at the Temple theater, as Mona Summers Smith, who takes the feminine lead, sees it.

These are, she declared today, the able and intelligent directing of Ernest Crozier Phillips, who is rounding an amateur performance into a finished piece of work; the very clever play with its mixture of humor, dramatic intensity and love motive, and a strong cast that is bringing to the rehearsal the spirit and enthusiasm that is making the play an artistic performance with a great deal of joy in the artistry.

"Appealing, as it does, to every side of our nature," she continued, "to the side of us that wants to slide along in the same old rut, finding in the old doctrine of 'laissez faire' the soundest philosophy; to that side that longs for thrills, excitement, tonic emotions and butters, and to the often subtle merged but never dead side that calls for romance and beauty, 'Three Wise Fools' will prove delicious, satisfying nourishment without leaving us with aesthetic indignation."

"Harry Brackett, H. G. Miller and Samuel R. Wyvill, as the three wise fools present three distinct characterizations each individually excellent."

"Mrs. H. H. Reeves, as the trustful housekeeper, is doing a small, but important part in a most convincing manner. When the opportunity is given for strong emotions she rises to the occasion with real feeling."

"George Gerwing, as Benny the Duck, Robert Paine, as the idealistic young athlete, and Warren Fletcher, as Poole, the detective, are all showing remarkable dramatic ability."

"Ted Griggs, as John Crawshaw, Joe Peterson, as Gray, Claire Hansen, as Douglas, and Albert Sheets as Clancy, finish a cast that will make 'Three Wise Fools' one of the most successful and entertaining plays of the season."

'WHITE LIE' OF SWIMMER EASY TO DETECT

"When a person once learns to swim he betrays his knowledge of the art as soon as he strikes the water; it isn't possible for him to fake his inability."

R. R. Russick, physical director at the Y. M. C. A., was talking today in this vein as he recalled an amusing incident that came in his experience.

This week at the Y. M. C. A. is known as "Swim Week" and hundreds of boys in the city schools who do not know how to swim are being instructed in the art by Russick. Under the program being carried out, teachers are sending the boys to the Y. M. C. A. at different intervals of the day.

"In a class of twenty boys that 'crossed their hearts and bodies' that they didn't know anything at all about how to keep afloat in the water," Russick continued, "and who jumped into the pool, four took the swimming lesson; the remaining sixteen were caught in their little white lies that they were just forced to tell in order to get into the water. Some were good swimmers, others could 'mud-crawl,' but all could swim—but four."

Here is the usual procedure: As the boys, dressed in their underwear, step out on the gymnasium floor they hear, "Now, all you boys who don't know how to swim, step one pace forward."

The column in full advances one pace. There is a titter from the boys.

OFFER 2 PLANS FOR TEACHING ITINERANTS

Nut Growers' Meet Due to Decide Best Method of Handling Roving Tots

Two plans relative to the schooling of itinerant children which are expected in this and other counties in Southern California during the walnut harvesting season will be submitted to the annual convention of the Southern California Walnut Growers' association, convening here in all-day session August 9, according to plans adopted last night at a meeting of the county program committee held in the farm bureau offices and announced here today.

The building of temporary schools to be financed by the districts affected, the schools to open at 7:30 a. m. and close at noon, is a plan suggested by Georgiana Carden, state superintendent of school attendance, which was approved by the committee. Another plan has been submitted by R. P. Mitchell, Orange county school superintendent, calling for the opening of schools in the summer so that itinerant children could get their schooling before the harvesting season opens.

Both plans feasible. Both plans seem feasible, according to the committee, who will submit both to the growers for decision.

Superintendent Mitchell showed that in Orange county only about 10 per cent of the children working in groves in this county come from other counties. Another suggestion which was made for Orange county only, was a plan requiring all children to have certificates showing when and where they had attended schools, growers not to allow children in their groves without the certificates.

It was estimated by the committee, composed of J. J. Dwyer, J. A. Smiley, H. E. Wahlberg and Arthur McFadden, that there will be about 750 children working in the groves during the season, and that virtually all would be Mexicans.

Superintendent Mitchell stated that he was of the opinion that it would be a difficult proposition to get the districts to finance the building of schools according to Miss Carden's plan, and that he did not think it would be possible to force the districts to it.

"We tried this plan before in the San Joaquin valley, but with very little results," he said. "Money to furnish the schools often is not available. In Los Angeles county tents are used in a number of cases, and the same plan might be tried here. The percentage of itinerants is so small in Orange county, however, that such schools might not seem feasible to the districts."

HOLD PILOT, 17, AS MAN KILLED ON HIGHWAY

Juvenile Officer Probes Report Death Machine Without Lights

Guss Ross, 49 years old, of Des Moines, Ia., was instantly killed at 1:45 p. m. yesterday when struck by an automobile driven by Charles Ring Jr., 17-year-old soda dispenser of a market here, it was reported today at the sheriff's office. The accident occurred two miles west of the city on the road to Midway City, where Ring lives. The young man is in the county jail pending an investigation of reports that the headlights were not lighted.

Officers who explained Ring's version of the accident said that the young man was driving alone about twenty miles an hour, unable to see anything except the edge of the paved road because his headlights had become disconnected. When suddenly the car was felt to strike an object and the windshield was shattered. According to the story told at the sheriff's office, Ring immediately stopped the car and picked up the form of a man from the roadside near the automobile.

Killed instantly. Ring then stopped an approaching automobile which contained J. P. McFarland of 515 North Main street, Santa Ana, and R. G. Knowlton of Los Angeles, and the three men lifted the form into the Knowlton car, believing the accident victim to be unconscious and not dead. They then rushed to the Santa Ana valley hospital, leaving Ring's car at the roadside.

An examination at the hospital proved that the man had died instantly as the result of a fracture at the base of the skull. A search of his clothing revealed a bank book belonging to G. Ross of Des Moines, Iowa. No deposits were recorded in the book, although it was dated in 1920.

A torn page of a letter in the man's pockets, signed by "Alma," contained two addresses, that of "Mr. Earl Ross, Clinton, Iowa," and "Mrs. Dillon E. Stickley, Wyoming, Iowa."

Literature of a sheet metal workers' union and a few tools wrapped in a work-shirt also were found.

Launches Probe. According to F. G. Yoder and Walter Myers, state motorcycle officers, who arrested Ring at the hospital last night, it was possible the victim of the fatal accident was deaf, as the car driven by Ring, they said, makes an unusually loud noise, it being an old model of an inexpensive make.

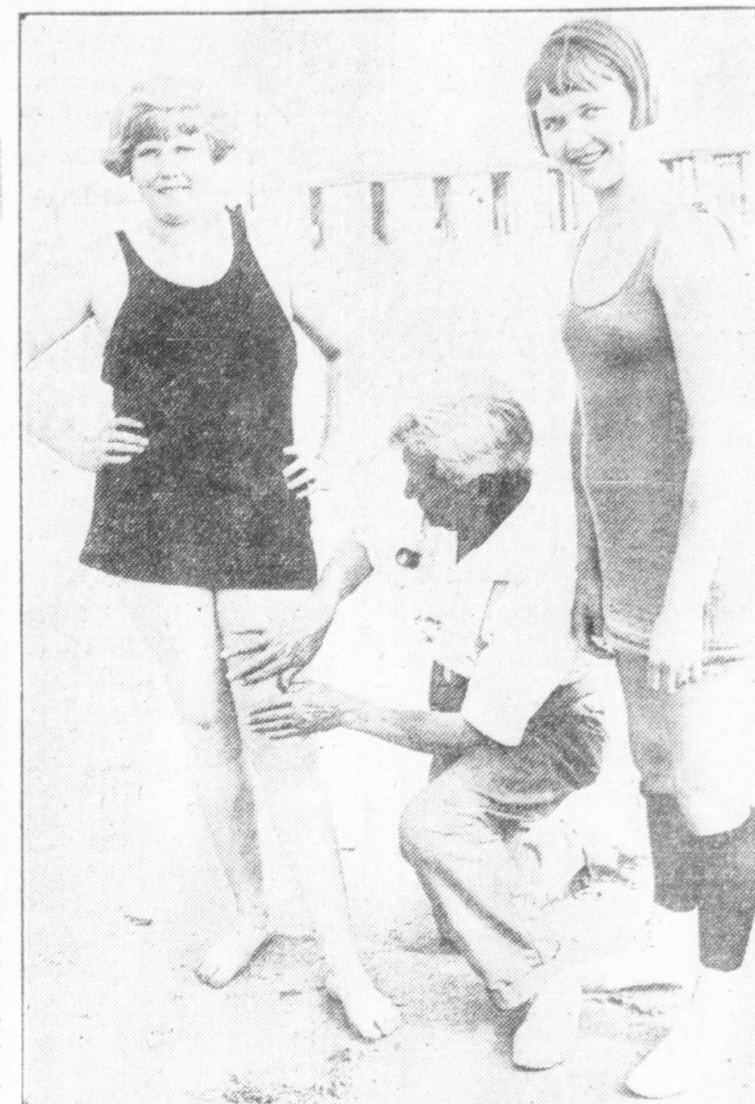

Juvenile officers are making a thorough investigation, R. R. Miller, county probation officer, stated.

An inquest will be conducted at the Winbigger undertaking parlors at 4 p. m. today. Because Ring is a minor he will be retained under charge of the juvenile authorities regardless of the findings of the coroner's jury, according to Miller.

Jap Boy Suicide to Escape School

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—Rather than attend school, Takeo Takamoto, 14-year-old Japanese school boy committed suicide according to the testimony of Deputy Sheriff M. V. Robbins, who said that the youth, just before he died of a bullet wound in the abdomen, told him that his father had ordered him to go to school.

SOUTHLAND'S ONLY BATHING SUIT ARBITER HAS NO RULER WHEN PROPRIETY IS GAUGED

Tom Robinson, official Newport Beach bathing suit inspector, measuring the distance between the bottom of the skirt of Madeline Reed and the kneecap. The Newport Beach city statute says the distance must not exceed ten inches. Miss Violet Olds, also of Newport Beach, whose suit was found acceptable, is an interesting spectator.

NEGRO BANDITS TAKE $26,000 BANK FUNDS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 6.—Negro bandits today held up the Main street bank and escaped with $26,000.

A patrolman was shot while resisting the robbers. In a similar holdup by negroes two months ago $40,000 was obtained.

Charles Haake, cashier, and Frank Loddie, paying teller, were returning to the Main street bank with the money in a satchel for the payroll. As they neared the bank the bandits, riding in two automobiles, opened fire and forced the bank auto to the curb.

C. L. Dyer, a motorcycle patrolman accompanying Haake and Loddie, was injured by the first shots. The bandits seized the satchel at the bank entrance. A large crowd on the street witnessed the shooting.

STAGE BEER RIOT. MONTREAL, June 6.—"Free Beer to All Callers," advertised a local brewery. And the next day brought 25,000 callers.

Thirsty men, women with children in arms, cripples, and people in all walks of life stormed the doors of the brewery from morning to night. Many lost their hats and tore their clothes in the rush. Police reserves were called.

A report that he was about to resign because an "Amazon" in a bathing suit objected to the exercises of his official duties and mauled him over the beach brought forth a sharp denial from Robinson.

"I am grieved that such an impression should be given at my time of life," the veteran inspector, went on to say, "I am 69 years old and have never been a quitter. In my time I have been held up seven times and never flinched once and I hardly think I would take a back seat when it came to regulating the length of a bathing suit."

"But being a man of discretion, I know better than to argue with a woman."

AUTO EXPENSIVE. TOKYO, June 6.—Automobiles are genuine luxuries in Japan. A license for the cheapest kind of car costs about $300. Gasoline heavily taxed—means an expense of approximately $1 a gallon.

SCORES OF GARMENTS TO BE EXHIBITED. Bathing suits, evening dresses.

184 GRADUATES NEAR SOLEMN OCCASION OF LEAVING ON LIFE TOUR

Commencement Exercises Two Weeks Away For Class of 1924

CEREMONIES PLANNED

School Year Is Successful, Principal Declares on Eve of Events

Nearing that milestone in life when the world and all that's in it become infinitely larger and responsibilities of the future beckon, a band of 184 Santa Ana students today was putting the finishing touches on scholastic education prior to the thirty-seventh commencement exercises, June 20, of the Santa Ana high school.

Though these solemn ceremonies are scheduled for two weeks from tonight and other senior activities are to be held previously, the machinery of the high school administration was running smoothly, oblivious to the inevitable excitement of "get-away" time.

Two weeks from today the big doors of the school will close for a long summer's vacation. The babies of youth will no longer be heard therein—at least until next fall when the student army again will descend on the campus and when halls, with floors freshly varnished and cleaned, again will swarm with Young America.

Class Not Largest. This year's graduating class, while not the largest that has had access to the big white buildings here, is one of the best prepared to face the problems of life, school authorities agreed.

"The year has been a pleasant and successful one," D. K. Hammond, principal, said. "We are glad, yet sorry, to bid farewell to these seniors. We are glad because we feel they are able representatives of our school and in years to come will bear up with our standards and we are sorry to lose them because as good students they have been worthy of all those ideals."

The baccalaureate sermon, to be delivered by the Rev. W. H. McPeak, pastor of the First Congregational church, will be held Sunday evening, June 15, at the high school auditorium.

Senior class day will be held Thursday, June 19. This is the time when members of the departing group gather with other pupils of the institution for the reading of the traditional class will, prophecy and poem, and present to the school its class gift—this year a set of tables and chairs for inter-scholastic debates.

Walter Dexter, president of Whitlir college, will be the speaker at the commencement exercises.

Jr. College Exercises. Admission to these ceremonies in the auditorium will be by ticket only and all seats will be reserved. Principal Hammond said. The building has accommodations for seating 1553 persons.

Arrangements for class day exercises are in the hands of Miss Minna Mae Lewis, instructor in oral English. Miss Margaret Wickes, head of the music department, has charge of plans for the music at all graduation gatherings. The eighth annual junior college commencement will be held in the auditorium Thursday night, June 19. Thirty-six men and women who have completed the requirements of the two-year course will be presented diplomas at this time.

The Rev. Walter Thornton, pastor of the First Christian church of Fullerton, will deliver the principal address. The public has been invited to attend.

Junior college graduation exercises will begin Sunday morning, June 15, when the class members and parents will attend the First Congregational church service. The Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the church, will deliver a special sermon.

The junior college banquet, an innovation this year, will be held at the Ebell clubhouse Wednesday night, June 18.

FULLERTON MAN SEEKS POST IN CAL. ASSEMBLY

Reaching a decision yesterday, S. C. Hartranft of Fullerton today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for assemblyman from this, the 76th district, comprising Orange county.

That Hartranft was considering the race, and that friends of his were urging him to run, has been known for several weeks.

The announcement of Hartranft's candidacy was made in a statement released for publication in newspapers of the county today. This statement, coming from men who are interested in Hartranft's candidacy, contains the following:

"In making his announcement, Mr. Hartranft declared that he was moved to take such a step only by the representations of leaders in business and agriculture in the county that he is needed to represent the county's interest in the state legislature.

Platform Told.
"If the people of Orange county desire to have me represent them in the legislature, I hold it a duty to serve. If elected to the office, I will devote my best efforts to represent the whole of Orange county and to promote its just interests," he said.

"An outstanding figure in his own community, the Anaheim-Fullerton district, Mr. Hartranft is regarded throughout the county as a leader in agriculture and business. As president of the board of directors of the Anaheim Citrus association, he is in intimate contact with the problems of the citrus growers. As chairman of the advisory committee of the Anaheim Union Water company, he has long been identified and is thoroughly familiar with the questions of water development and flood control as related to Orange county.

Mr. Hartranft has also been active in educational work, being president of the Fullerton union high school board and having had a prominent part in the development of the splendid school system of that district. He is also Orange county Boy Scout commissioner and actively interested in Boy Scout work.

Bank Director.
"Although primarily a 'dirt farmer' his other business interests are extensive. He is a director of both the First National bank of Anaheim and the American Savings bank of that city.

"An able speaker, Mr. Hartranft is frequently called upon to appear before the civic and business organizations of the county. He is a member of the Anaheim Rotary club and the Orange County Shrine club.

"Mr. Hartranft has lived in Orange county for more than fifteen years and so broad have been his contacts with county affairs that his friends regard him as one of the best equipped men of the county's citizens to represent this district in the legislature.

"An active campaign in his behalf will be carried on during the period preceding the August primary by a large number of prominent citizens who have pledged support in all sections of the county."

Man Who Acts As Own Lawyer Wins Suit Over Bill

A disputed automobile painting bill for $78.20, which formed the basis of a court action brought by J. B. Glaze, of this city, against J. G. Warner, was settled for $54.20, the sum Warner claimed was due, it was shown today in records of Justice J. B. Cox's court.

Justice Cox heard the trial late yesterday and decided in favor of Warner. Warner then tendered the $54.20 to Glaze, who accepted it.

Warner, who conducted his own defense in court, declared that Glaze had added to the bill items for work that had not been ordered done.

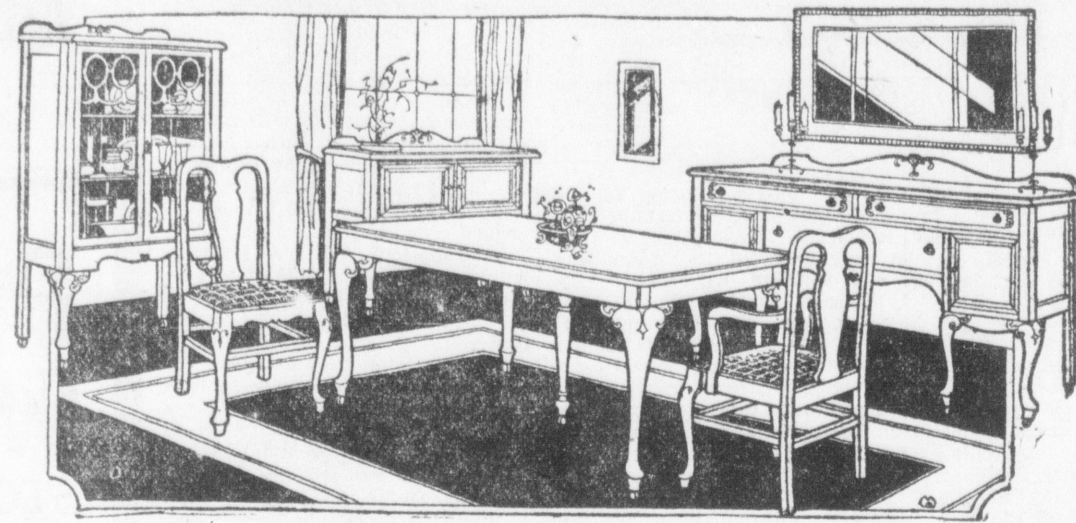

H. H. Dale, local automobile man, testified in corroboration of Warner's claim. O. H. Egge, former partner of Dale, testified for Glaze.

Attorney A. E. Koepsel, of Orange, appeared for Glaze at the trial.

LIKE BUFFALO STEAK?

SMITHY IS DOOMED.
LONDON, June 6.—The inspiration for Longfellow's familiar verses—the village smithy in St. Mary's Church, a English village, is

BRITON AMAZED AT KLAN AND ORTHODOXY

LONDON, June 5.—Reaction to fundamentalism and growth of the Ku Klux Klan are two of the discordant notes which Professor J. Arthur Thompson, of the Aberdeen university, one of the most distinguished of British dons, finds in the United States, which he has recently revisited.

"A very remarkable post-war phenomenon is the reaction to extremely literal orthodoxy, called 'fundamentalism,'" said Professor Thompson, in recounting his impressions of the United States.

Raps Fundamentalism

"It implies a return to 'the things that cannot be shaken' such as creationism and verbal inspiration of the Scriptures. Attempts have been made to prohibit the promulgation of evolutionist science in schools; we have heard of the dismissal of evolutionist teachers; and it has been suggested that museums should not be arranged in such a way as to suggest the evolution idea, which is simply that the present is the child of the past, and the parent of the future. 'It is always in some measure good that people should have strong convictions in regard to any serious questions; but 'fundamentalism' seems ill-informed and intolerant. Anyhow, it is like a pathetic Mrs. Partington trying to sweep back the scientific tide. There was much breaking of the ice during the war, and the 'fundamentalist' reaction represents a failure in readjustment. It is a frightened rebound behind the bulwarks of an outworn orthodoxy, which proclaims itself impregnable and hypnotizes the credulous into accepting an illusion. The most remarkable feature about 'fundamentalism' is the insecurity of its foundations.

Analyze Ku Klux
"Cognate with 'fundamentalism,' in the detached outsider's eyes, is another post-war phenomenon—the Ku Klux Klan movement.

"Both had their analogies after the Civil war. Both are expressions of the self-preservation instinct. For the operations of the Ku Klux Klan express a somewhat scare-driven determination to save America for the Americans, just as the 'fundamentalists' seek to secure their souls by becoming defenders of the faith. Both are willing to go to considerable lengths, and both suffer from the myopia of fanaticism. The Ku Klux Klansmen are against aliens, negroes, Jews, Roman Catholics, new departures of all sorts. They have the instincts of the game-preservation and the aggressive Tory. "Like the prohibitionists, they are characteristically contradictory expressions of the great country where the flag of freedom flaps so furiously."

Vets' Bonus Makes Jobs for 'Stenos'

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—The United States Civil Service commission announced today that the passage of the adjusted compensation law, commonly called the bonus law, requires the temporary appointment of several hundred stenographer-typists and typists in the departmental service at Washington. Both men and women are needed.

Examinations for these positions will be held each Tuesday until further notice in approximately 600 cities throughout the United States.

It is expected that positions will continue for from 6 to 3 months, or possibly longer.

The salaries range from $1,320 to $1,500 a year for stenographer-typists and from $1,140 to $1,320 a year for typists.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the United States Civil Service commission, Washington, D. C., or the secretary of the local board of civil service examiners at the post office or custom house in any city.

but Russick's face is as blank as an Indian's when he orders the boys to get out of their clothes and get into the pool. No sooner have they felt the cool water envelope them however, than their movements give them away.

"Hey, you and you," Russick will shout, "get out of the pool and go on your clothes."

And out they go, grinning from ear to ear, but disappointed that they were found out so soon after getting into the water.

"Their lies find them out," said Russick. "They don't seem to be able to keep up their camouflage any longer. They must take that first stroke, and when they do, their swimming lesson for the day is a thing of the past."

"It is a simple matter to determine whether a boy can swim. There are a thousand little ways to tell."

"I don't blame the boys at all. It's quite a temptation for the boys to get into this pool and no one can blame them for forgetting for a time that they can't swim."

'Y' CAMP QUOTA IS NOT LARGE ENOUGH

Santa Ana's quota of fifty-six boys for the Orange county Y. M. C. A. camp in the San Bernardino mountains, to be held for two weeks beginning July 1, will not be enough to accommodate all Santa Ana boys that want to go. This prediction was made here today by James A. McDill, boys' work secretary, who added that the first applications received would be given preference.

Committees from Orange county organizations today were at the camp site, where work is being done on the grounds.

The program of camp was announced, as follows:

Six-thirty a. m., reveille, setting up exercise, morning dip, flag raising; 7:00, breakfast; 8:00, Bible study and chapel; 9:30, inspection; 9:45, athletics, nature study; 11:15, swim, aquatic tests; 12:15, dinner; 1:00, rest period; 2:00, hikes, games, fishing, etc.; 4:30, afternoon swim; 6:00, supper; 8:00, camp fire; 9:30, taps.

GIRLS TO FROLIC AT 'Y' LATE MONDAY

Girl day at the Y. M. C. A. will be Monday.

According to announcement made today by Ralph Smedley, secretary, boys will be banished from 3:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. on that day while high school and junior college girls take over the building.

A lecture on gymnasium apparatus by R. R. Russick, physical director, play in the gymnasium, a swim and a tour of the building are scheduled before refreshments are served in the patio. The arrangements are being made by Miss Ethel Smallwood, president of the Girls' league, and Miss Isabel Anderson, girls' advisor.

BOYS, PHYSICAL EXECUTIVES OF 'Y' IN MEET

For the purpose of perfecting plans for activities in the boys' department and the physical education department of the Y. M. C. A., committees met for luncheon at the "Y" building today and were scheduled to meet again this afternoon.

Members of the physical work committee are Alex Brownridge, H. A. Striker, Ray Canterbury, Nat H. Neff and Walter Spicer.

The boys' work committee is composed of J. A. Cranston, H. G. Nelson, R. Carson Smith, D. K. Hammond, D. G. Tidball, the Rev. P. F. Schrock, A. J. McFadden and Eugene Grisct.

Although members of the board of supervisors of Riverside county were present at the meeting, they were not given opportunity to express the probable attitude of that body toward the program of mountain road construction.

According to Alexander, it is the general opinion that the executives of Riverside county are ready to co-operate in the movement, once it is definitely established that Orange county is in position to build its portion of the road.

Pomona Graduate Exercises Told

Friday has been set apart as the annual class day and will open with the class breakfast on the knoll at 8 a. m. The class farewell will follow at 10 o'clock in Bridges hall. At 8:15 p. m. the senior class will present its play in the Greek theater. They have chosen this year a comedy by Louis Parker, "Pomander Walk." This will be preceded by a half hour of music by the glee club reunion chorus. Commencement exercises will follow Saturday.

PLACER MINES IN STATE ARE NOT EXTINCT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—In spite of the fact that the gold placers of California have produced over a billion dollars since their discovery in 1848, the idea that they are now completely exhausted is entirely erroneous. In the course of an investigation of placer mining conditions in this state covering over two years just made by the California state mining bureau, certain facts have been established, and these are now made available to the public in the form of Bulletin 92, written by Charles S. Haley, under direction of Lloyd L. Root, state mineralogist.

The principal gold placer area of California lies in the Sierra Nevada between Susanville on the north and Mariposa on the south. This area is the one that is restricted by the present debris law. It is tributary to the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, which have been classed as navigable streams. Aside from this area, there is a considerable yardage of available gravel still remaining on the tributaries of the Klamath river, which are discussed in the economic section of the report.

The district within the Sierras, however, is by far the most important from an economic standpoint. From investigations thus far, it seems fairly safe to assume a total of about seven billion yards of gravel distributed among the different drainage areas, as follows approximately: Feather river 500,000,000 yards; Yuba river 3,500,000,000 yards; Bear and American rivers 2,500,000,000 yards; Mokelumne, Cosumnes, Calaveras, Tuolumne, and Stanislaus rivers 500,000,000 yards. The above figures include both drift and hydraulic ground.

The above total of 7,000,000,000 yards is of course not all available for working from an economic standpoint. It is fairly safe to assume that at least 40 per cent of this, due to its location and elevation with regard to available water, is not feasible for working. This leaves, roughly about 4,000,000,000 yards, which, judging from the past performance in the days of unrestricted mining, should yield an average of about 15 cents a yard; and if hydraulic mining is restored under proper restrictions with regard to controlling of debris, there is, roughly in the neighborhood of $600,000,000 to be recovered from these drainage systems alone.

A perfectly feasible plan for the working of this ground, under the provisions of the Caminetti Act, is now suggested and is to some extent now being carried out by private corporations. Should the work be amplified to cover the whole drainage system, it should properly be under the control of the national and state governments in conjunction.

Copies of Bulletin 92, which is accompanied by a map in four colors showing distribution of the gravels, may be obtained by addressing the state mining bureau, Ferry Building, San Francisco, or at the Pacific Finance building, Los Angeles.

Store Employees Picnic At Park

Sixty-five employees of the Rankin Dry Goods company closed the store at 4 p. m. yesterday and caravanned to Orange county park for the second outing of the new Co-operative society.

The athletic superiority of the young business women was demonstrated in a baseball game in which the opposing team of the sterner sex was forced down to defeat, by the score of 8 to 6. Herbert Rankin was referee.

The progress of the sumptuous dinner was agreeably interrupted by solos by Miss Frances Coon, who also led the Co-ops in singing popular songs.

The meeting finally adjourned to the floor of the pavilion where dancing was in order.

2 Bridge Tenders Slaying Victims

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 6.—Joseph Wallace, 50, toll collector on the McKinley bridge over the Mississippi river, and Charles Virgin, watchman for the Illinois traction company, were shot to death today at Wallace's station in the Illinois end of the bridge. The only clue was given by a switching crew which told of a party of four men in an automobile having an argument over tolls and leaving after loud talking.

Retired Banker Dies As Friends Laud Golf Shot

SANTA BARBARA, June 6.—William P. Lyman, retired banker of Boston, was dead here today, a victim of a heart attack late yesterday while playing golf.

Lyman had just made an unusually brilliant shot on the Montecito Country Club links when, turning to receive the applause of friends, he dropped dead, falling on exactly the same spot where Eugene L. Patterson, a retired Minnesota banker, died while playing golf a few weeks ago.

kiddies clothes and scores of other garment types will go to make up the fashion show to be held at the high school Thursday, June 12.

Miss Bertha Stein, head of the home economics department, today predicted the fashion show will be a real exhibition of the ability of high school girls to make attractive and inexpensive clothes for themselves.

There are to be exhibitions of sewing and millinery, weaving and fine sewing all day and evening, in the classrooms in the science building, with special fashion shows with living models scheduled for 4 and 7:30 p. m.

"The fathers are especially invited to the evening fashion show," said Miss Stein. "Men usually shy from these exhibits when they really would be much interested. We want the fathers to come to see what their daughters can do."

"All clothes on exhibit will have been made by the girls, themselves, and virtually every kind of garment, hat, woven work and household art goods will be on display."

S. A. FRENCH CONTEST WINNER TO COMPETE

Miss Persana Deimling, winner of the medal offered by the Alliance Francaise of Paris for the best French student in Santa Ana schools, was to go to Los Angeles today where she will compete tonight with twenty-five other winners of medals throughout the Southland, for a medal to be given to the best French student in high schools of the state. The examinations will be held at the Ebell clubhouse there.

Pupils and teachers in the local schools concede that Miss Deimling's chances to win are exceptionally good.

The contests, both for the city and state medals are being conducted by the French society for the purpose of encouraging the study of French in American schools, and, according to Miss Lella Watson, French and Spanish teacher at the Santa Ana high school, the event will be an annual one.

Miss Genevieve Orr of the high school, who is the winner of the medal offered to the best Spanish student in Santa Ana schools, will go to Los Angeles June 13, where she will take an examination with twenty-five winners of medals offered by the American Spanish Teachers' association, in the hope of winning the state medal that is offered. This contest will be held at the Southern branch of the University of California.

CARNIVAL WILL BE GIVEN BY H. S. CLUB

Students at the high school today were preparing to participate in a carnival to be given at the commercial building on the campus tomorrow night, under the auspices of the Athena club. Proceeds of the affair will go toward purchase by the club of a set of ornamental screens to be used in the music department. The event will take the place of the annual Athena club party for senior girls.

A vaudeville program will be held in the girls' gymnasium, with Miss Molly Mosher in charge. It will include a short play, and musical and dance numbers. The Misses Josephine Crookshank, Catherine Best and Jane Griffith will hold forth at a fortune-telling booth, while Miss Kate Benton will have charge of the ice cream

ORATORIO SOCIETY WILL GIVE 'ELIJAH'

The Oratorio Society of Orange county will begin rehearsing Mendelssohn's famous composition "Elijah" Tuesday night Professor F. C. Salbach, director, announced today. This society several weeks ago presented its initial production, "The Creation" by Joseph Haydn. Many favorable comments were received from individuals who urged that the work be continued and who pledged their support in a new undertaking. On the strength of the success of its first undertaking, the society, according to its director, has set the rendition of "Elijah" as its goal.

At a recent business meeting the society was placed on a permanent basis. It elected the following officers: President, David Montanna; vice-president, Mrs. J. L. Shepherd; secretary, Miss Alma Bode; treasurer, Miss Mary Kraft, and librarian, Marian Everett. A committee consisting of J. H. Peters, Montanna and Larsen was appointed to nominate candidates for the membership, business and music committees. It is planned for the committees to take charge of all the business matters, so that the director may devote himself to the production itself.

Miss Della Hampton will conduct the "fish pond" and Miss Thelma Patton, the "mysterious blackjack." A "krazy house" will be operated on the second floor, with Miss Annie Tarver as manager, Miss Minna Mae Lewis is faculty advisor of the club and Miss Evelyn Metzgar is president.

A distinguished coffee meets many distinguished people

It is the glorious West that visitors from abroad most want to see in America. Not the least of the thrills they relate back home is that "wonderful western coffee!" And thus has the coffee tradition spread to every Old World capital.

You know their enthusiasm is well founded the moment you break the vacuum seal of a tin of Hills Bros. Red Can Coffee and release that rare aroma. You are doubly sure when you taste the flavor. As one zealot said, "They may copy the can, but not its contents!"

With all its high quality, Hills Bros. Coffee is not high-priced. It is economical to buy—and economical to use. Hills Bros., San Francisco.

Don't let constipation make you an invalid —relieve it with Kellogg's Bran

Few people realize how dangerous is constipation until this dread disease tears down their health. Did you know that more than forty serious diseases can be traced to constipation?

Keep your health, or restore it, with Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. It brings relief in mild and chronic cases of constipation. It is effective because it is ALL bran. That is why it is recommended so highly by doctors. They know that only ALL bran can bring 100 per cent results. Part bran is, at best, only a halfway measure.

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran will bring permanent relief—even in the most chronic case. It is guaranteed to do so. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Because it is ALL bran it sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. Like nature, it acts naturally. It makes the intestine function regularly.

Eat it every day—two tablespoonfuls—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Enjoy it in those wonderful recipes given on every package.

The flavor of Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is delicious. It is crisp, nutlike. Quite different from ordinary bran, which are so unpalatable. Kellogg's Bran is made in Battle Creek and served by the leading hotels and clubs everywhere. Sold by all grocers.

Stage and Screen

TEMPLE—"Men," with Pola Negri, Yost—Vaudeville and "The Marriage Cheat," with Percy Marmont and Leatrice Joy.

POLA NEGRIS THEATRICAL CAREER DESIRABLE

Pola Negri, star of "Men," the picture showing at the Temple all this week, has a bit of advice to offer. It is, "If you would enjoy long years of life, take up theatricals, either as a vocation or an avocation."

"A stage career provides that variety of emotion and diversity of occupation necessary to a continuance of the one thing which keeps people young—enthusiasm," declares the star.

"As a rule both actors and actresses continue in their chosen vocation until they have reached an advanced age. Frequently they return again and again to the stage. In all ranks of professionals we find that mortality is comparatively low."

"Frequently, in reading the papers, you find a notice that so-and-so, famous many years ago in opera, drama, vaudeville or some other branch of entertainment, has died after a number of years spent in retirement."

"The thing which sustained them to the end was the variety of their mental interests. Playing role after role, their vital forces were constantly renewed through the continual change. The years spent in concentration upon one line of thought and endeavor are responsible for the early deaths of millions."

His identity hidden under a new name, a man who a few years ago was the defendant in a highly sensational murder trial, being tried and acquitted on a charge of having murdered his wife by poison, is now a partner in one of the prominent legal firms in London.

Radio Supplies at Hawleys.

Leatrice Joy will be seen at the Yost theater tonight and tomorrow in "The Marriage Cheat." Others in the cast are Percy Marmont and Adolphe Menjou.

TERRIFIC SEA STORM FILMED IN YOST PICTURE

A terrific storm at sea, culminating in a shipwreck, is one of the gripping scenes in "The Marriage Cheat," the picture produced by Thomas H. Ince, which opens a two-day engagement at the Yost Theater tonight. The action takes place in the fabled South Seas, where the picture was filmed.

Probably never before has such a realistic storm been screened. Director John Griffith Wray, who took his company to that far-off section of the globe, waited many days before a typhoon took place, but the ferocity of it resulted in such remarkable "shots" that his patience was rewarded.

"The Marriage Cheat" is based on the story by Frank R. Adams, and is enacted by a cast which boasts such capable players as Percy Marmont, Leatrice Joy, Adolphe Menjou, Laska Winter, Henry Barrows and J. P. Lackney.

JUMPS FROM AIRPLANE TO 'GET' FLEEING SPY

Not long ago the sensational four-mile parachute leap by a flying officer at Kelly field, San Antonio, the young aviator landing safely from an altitude of 21,500 feet and establishing what is believed to be a record. This stunt which was accomplished in twenty-five minutes seems almost incredible yet a feat of even greater magnitude is performed by Jack Holt in "The Lone Wolf," now showing at the West End theater.

As Michael Lanyard, "The Lone Wolf," Holt and Dorothy Dalton, the heroine of the Louis Joseph Vance picture, take to the air in mid-pursuit of another plane, bearing Alphonse Ethier as Eckstrom, the international spy, who is trying to get away with the secret plans belonging to the United States government.

As Holt's machine overtakes Ethier's, a maneuver is made whereby Holt leaps from one plane to the other, overpowers Ethier physically, recovers the wanted papers and then unleashing a parachute, descends through space until his own plane coming below enables him to reach it without any harm.

"DANGER AHEAD" SHOWING AT WALKER THEATRE

When a man breaks into the home of his young and beautiful step-daughter, kills her husband after a furious fight, and steals her $200,000 collection of jewels—it's a safe bet that there is "Danger Ahead" for anybody who interferes with him.

But this villain is only one of the dangers encountered by the smiling and athletic Richard Talmadge in "Danger Ahead," now showing at Walker's theater. Before the picture ends, Talmadge faces—and outfaces—such other dangers as a pair of clever crooked lawyers, a keenly suspicious district attorney, and underworld desperado known as "The Dago" and a reckless chauffeur who leaves a trail of victims struck down behind him.

There are enough dangers ahead to satisfy the most eager motion picture fan, and they are avoided by athletic feats which are unequalled by any other performer on the screen.

Arthur Armstrong and Co. presents ten minutes of fast and furious bicycle riding as a vaudeville feature. It's a splendid act of its kind and greatly differs from other acts of this nature. There is also a great deal of comedy in the act.

Water Patrons At Tustin Will Get $5 Refund

Seventy-five consumers of the Tustin water works at Tustin will be pleasantly surprised by having $5 refunded to each of them through the efforts of the state railroad commission, according to word received here today.

Under the general policy of the railroad commission public utility water companies in this state are required to install service pipes up to the curb lines facing the consumers' property and install meters at the utilities own expense. The Tustin Water company, through error, has been collecting $5 from each applicant to cover service connections. Upon the commission's informal complaint department learning of the practice, the company was instructed to refund all amounts collected. The company readily acquiesced, and informed the commission that it will immediately return all amounts collected, which total approximately $375.

JUNE 16 FIXED FOR S. A. BAND TOUR SOUTH

The Santa Ana Municipal band of approximately sixty men will go to Camp Kearney Sunday, June 16, to entertain disabled veterans in the hospital there. It became known today, following announcement of the date as made yesterday at the meeting of the Lions club held at St. Ann's Inn.

The members of the musical organization will be transported to the camp in automobiles to be furnished by the club, a number of members yesterday volunteering their machines for that purpose. According to the tentative schedule, the concert will be given in the forenoon. On the return trip to Santa Ana the organization will give a concert at Oceanside, the stop there being for the purpose of advertising this city at that resort.

At its meeting on June 19, the local club will entertain here the full membership of the Whittier club, the obligation falling on the club by reason of the Whittier club's sending more delegates than Santa Ana to the district convention at Sacramento.

Arrangements being made for the concert at Camp Kearney are in the hands of George Platt, Clyde Whitney, Warren Hillyard and Harry Hanson. Santa Ana delegates to the convention will be responsible for the program to be given here when the Quaker city club is entertained. They are Walter S. Spicer, Fred Wilde, Dr. E. H. Rowland, Ernest Winbigger and Bruce Monroe.

Each of these men yesterday reported on some particular feature of the convention. Spicer presented a general outline of the convention. Rowland discussed resolutions presented. Munroe reported the contest between five-minute speakers. Winbigger recounted some points made in the principal addresses and Wilde told of the entertainment provided.

Rowland announced that the convention had reaffirmed action taken by the district in establishing September 14 as Star Spangled Banner day by clubs of the district. Recommendation was made that Lions International as its major activity adopt work in the interest of underprivileged children. A resolution was adopted favoring employment of a full-time secretary, with establishment to be made of a yearly per capita due of $3. The resolution will be referred to each club for approval and the office will be created if a majority of the clubs vote favorably.

Cal Prior was program chairman yesterday.

Railway Citing Trespass Gets $1; 2 Men Sued

A R. Hargrave and H. F. Schneider, ranchers of the south Anaheim district, who were accused by the Southern-Pacific Railway company of trespassing upon its right of way and tearing up unused track, today faced the necessity of "digging up" 50 cents apiece for the railroad.

Judge R. Y. Williams in superior court here, after hearing the suit filed by the railroad company, returned a judgment late yesterday of $1 damages against the ranch-

STARTER STUCK, SAYS ORANGE MAN IN EXPLAINING HOW CAR HAPPENED TO HURDLE CURB

ORANGE, June 6.—Theodore F. Baessler, of the City Cleaning Works of this city was today "digging down in his jeans" for money to pay for a show case broken Thursday morning by his automobile which took an inexplicable motion to climb the curb in front of the Red Front Bargain store and smash the show case.

According to eyewitnesses of the affair, the machine came to a halt a few fractions less than one inch from the front of the store and Baessler explained that his starter had stuck and that in an effort to free it he had put the car in gear and rocked the car back and fourth. Getting in the machine he stepped on the starter and, lo, the motor started. So did the car which was still in gear and the show case was completely demolished.

Two other queer accidents were reported to have been seen here yesterday but no names could be learned. One was said to involve a party of young folks who desired to see how fast they could go on Tustin avenue. Unfortunately, they struck a wet place on the pavement and after spinning about several times slid off of the road backwards into an orange orchard.

No one was injured. A man from Olive was said to have been slightly injured when the car which he was driving ran off the road into a ditch. According to witnesses, a machine passed by on the highway at a high rate of speed which "rattled" the car so that he lost control of the machine and it plunged into the ditch. He received cuts about the head.

R. V. Cox of 402 East Walnut street, Santa Ana, is also scheduled to appear before City Recorder Ingle June 11 to answer to charges of speeding across an intersection at an asserted speed of 37 miles per hour.

Theodore Orrick of Torrance, will also appear before court here June 11 to answer to charges of speeding 40 miles across an intersection and additional charges of having his cut out open. Peterkin made the arrest.

Four cases were tried before Ingle here yesterday, out of twenty-seven cases scheduled to be heard. Those who appeared were fined the regular amount for their offense. Those who came in late will be charged for the "added agony," it was declared today by Justice G. W. Ingle.

Those who appeared were L. B. Hammill, who paid $10; R. McGill, paid $5; A. E. Walker, paid $5; Clarence Dickmeier, paid $10. Dickmeier was arrested last evening by Officer Peterkin and made haste to pay his fine.

NEW BISHOP TO PREACH HERE ON SUNDAY

The Rev. George A. Miller, one of the five bishops elected at the general conference of the First Methodist Episcopal church at Springfield, Mass., will occupy the pulpit of First Church here Sunday evening. Rev. Will A. Betts, pastor announced today.

Simultaneously it became known here today that the bishop is a nephew of Dr. J. L. Dyer of this city and an old friend of the Rev. Mr. Betts.

The Rev. Mr. Miller has been assigned to Mexico City, where he will maintain his episcopal residence, the local pastor stated. The new bishop and his family will be guests tomorrow and Sunday of Dr. Dyer and the Rev. Mr. Betts. They will spend several days in Southern California before going to Mexico City.

The choir of the church will render the chorus of "The Heavens Are Telling," from Creation, as an incident of the bishop's occupancy of the local pulpit Sunday evening.

"The bishop has been engaged in missionary work in Panama for several years past," said the Rev. Mr. Betts. "He voluntarily entered upon this work several years ago, when he resigned the important pastorate of Grace church, San Francisco. Interested in missionary work, he offered to enter the field in Panama if the young people of the First Methodist churches of California would provide funds to meet actual expenses. This was done and the bishop labored for years virtually without remuneration. His elevation to bishop was a just recognition of service he has rendered the denomination."

FORD SAYS ONE CAN READ 20 BOOKS DAILY

NEW YORK, June 6.—Henry Ford's name in the public mind is connected more closely with automobiles, railroads and Muscle Shoals than with Longfellow, Emerson, and Maeterlinck. Nevertheless, he is an ardent reader of these authors as well as of Whittier and Logan, according to an article, "What Henry Ford Reads," published in the current issue of Hearst's International magazine.

Allen L. Benson, the reporter, quotes Ford on this subject: "There's this about books. One idea builds them all. That idea may be conveyed in a sentence or a single paragraph. That's all there is to the book. One gets the habit of catching the idea, then he can read twenty books a night. All the rest of the stuff in the book is simply junk. The idea is the important thing."

"Next to the Bible I admire the writings of Emerson—all of them. My favorites, if I have favorites, are the first two volumes of Emerson's essays and of these my favorite one is Compensation. No matter where you turn in these books you can always find meat—something good for your mind. After Emerson my choice would be John Burroughs. A good friend was John Burroughs—a wonderful man. Then Maeterlinck's 'Blue Bird.' You know I am a firm believer in reincarnation."

He also likes poetry. His favorite poems are the "Pauline" by Longfellow and "Maud Muller" by Whittier. Of course he reads the newspapers, and of them he prefers those that criticize.

"I want to read the criticisms," he said. "You know a man can't get anywhere if he listens to flattery. Criticism is not always useful but it is always helpful. The man who can't stand up when he is criticized is in a bad way."

But in spite of the fact that he does believe in the value of reading he thinks that the most valuable information is gained by contact.

"The trouble with many persons is that they don't think," he concluded. "They look at things but don't see them. They don't reason. They don't dig in for the principles underlying all things and—memory. That is important. Remember what you hear. Remember what you see. Living is the greatest education there is. But—be alive!"

BOBBED HAIR UNANIMOUS IN VILLAGE

LAKEVILLE, N. Y., June 6.—Three weeks ago 47 maidens and matrons in this village were wearing long tresses. Today there are but nine, and they wear wigs, having no hair of their own to be bobbed.

Women who most scornfully derided the bobbed hair custom last year were among the first to get in line and have their hair lopped off a few inches below the ears this spring.

The reason for the sudden flop in sentiment and abandonment of prejudice is not far to seek. It had nothing to do with tight fitting hats, for Lakeville femininity does not, as a rule, wear hats after the Mayflowers bloom and the warm days come. They are actuated solely by a desire to do the proper thing to their hair as exemplified by the city women.

Last autumn when the Conesus lake season closed only about 40 per cent of city women were wearing bobbed hair; those who have come up thus far this spring

Pump Works Here Winner in Suit Over Repair Bill

The Dixon Pump works of this city had emerged successfully today from a court contest in which the Los Angeles Electric works sought without avail to collect a bill of $146.40.

Justice J. R. Cox, hearing the trial late yesterday, denied the claim of the plaintiff and gave judgment for the local concern.

The plaintiff's bill was based on repairs made upon machinery owned by a Lancaster man, who has purchased the machinery from the Dixon Pump works. The defense contended that it had nothing to do with the repairs, and that the electric works was aware that the Lancaster man was responsible for the repair bill.

Attorney H. E. Bianchi, Los Angeles, appeared for the plaintiff, with Attorney Fred Forgy, of Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, representing the defendant.

APPROVE TRUCKING HIGHWAY TO S. A.

Santa Ana, it was reiterated here today, will be connected directly with Los Angeles by the proposed easterly extension of Manchester avenue from Los Angeles as a means of relieving traffic congestion along present routes.

This project and seven other highway proposals for the east side territory of Los Angeles, it was learned here, were endorsed fully last week at a joint meeting of the East Side Organization, Inc., and representatives of nearby communities. According to Leslie R. Saunders, executive secretary of the East Side body, petitions will be circulated immediately in the districts affected.

The new route to Santa Ana would begin at Manchester avenue and Harbor Truck boulevard in Los Angeles and would extend easterly along Lincoln avenue, southward. It would jog northerly over the Southern Pacific railroad at River School road, Downey, and thence southeasterly parallel with the Southern Pacific tracks.

The eight highway proposals were contained in a report prepared by Francis Bates, chief engineer of the East Side Organization, Inc., and are the result of several months' investigation of needed improvements in a territory of 100 square miles.

A large number were present to enjoy the games and dainty refreshments. The Joneses proved themselves to be real hosts and hostesses.

The Woman's Home Missionary society meeting which was to have been held at Anaheim Landing Wednesday, June 11th, has been postponed for one week in order that the women might all attend the Missionary conference in Garden Grove June 10 and 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenwald from Inglewood visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kohler Sunday. Mrs. Stinson of Wintersburg was the honor guest at a shower Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Slater. Games and contests were thoroughly enjoyed throughout the afternoon.

There will be no evening services at the Methodist church Sunday so that all may attend the baccalaureate service at Huntington Beach.

TITLE GOLFERS TEE OFF INTO HEAVY WIND

Bobby Jones Turns In A. M. Card of 37; Sarazen Takes 39 Strokes

OAKLAND HILLS COUNTRY CLUB, Mich., June 6.—Shooting into a stiff wind that hampered all the players on the final day of the American open golf tournament, Bobby Jones of Atlanta, defending champion, made a stern fight for his title this morning and brought in a card of 37 for the first nine holes, two above par, Gene Sarazen, who was paired with him, took 39.

OAKLAND HILLS COUNTRY CLUB, Mich., June 6.—A tired but game crowd swept across the line of fire in the Oakland Hills links as the first shots went moaning from the tee in the final round of the American open championship today.

As Mac Smith and Joe Kirkwood came up to the ninth green with a 39 and 38, respectively, for a route which is par 35, Gene Sarazen, who was leaning on his clubs waiting to tee off with Bobby Jones, observed that the morning blow was a handicap to the earliest detachment of starters. Clarence Hackney, the first to drive off, came in with a 40 for the first nine holes. That set him far back, for he had taken 153 for the first 36 holes Thursday. Peter O'Hara, paired with Hackney, brought home a 36 for nine holes, but he was 155 Thursday.

"Chick" Evans turned in a 37, two over par, making him 154.

Bill Mehlhorn, in a tie for first place, made a 37, making 154 for the 36 holes. Dave Robertson, with a 36 totalled 156.

BALTIMORE YOUTH IS MARBLE CHAMP

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 6.—George Lenox, 14-year-old star from Baltimore, shot his way to the national marble championship today. He defeated Thomas Wright of Springfield, Mass., four out of seven games in the final.

A large throng, which gathered at the ringside and hung over the rails of the board walk watched the two youths coolly play out their shots, apparently oblivious to gazes and exclamations of the crowd.

Dazy Vance's pitching and Fournier's twelfth homer helped the Dodgers win with something to spare over Pittsburgh, 6 to 2.

Tom Sheehan won his sixth game out of seven starts, shutting out the Braves and the Reds won, 5 to 0.

Billy Evans SAYS

There is no greater asset in sport than courage. Many athletes with the qualifications for champions fail miserably because they lack courage. In the world of sport, courage is better known by the rather uncouth expression, "guts."

Courage is classified in two separate sections, physical and mental. Physical courage merely calls for an expression of brute strength. The refusal to admit the superiority of an opponent. Mental courage calls for the best that is in a man. The athlete who can deliver in the crisis, where poise is even more essential than brute strength, proves equal to the big test.

In perhaps no sport is mental and physical courage put to a more severe test than in baseball. The bases filled, no one out and three sluggers coming up is a tough spot for the team in the field, the pitcher in particular.

When a rookie breaks into the big league his reputation for courage is given equal consideration with his ability, relative to his chances of making good.

Every season in the majors ofers many examples of the great need of courage in order to deliver. Scores of likely youngsters, possessors of great ability, fail because the strain, both mental and physical, is too great.

That is why no greater compliment could be paid a recruit than to have some veteran express the opinion that he has plenty of "courage."

Not in many years have I seen a better illustration of mental and physical courage than that shown to me by Pitcher Wingard of the St. Louis Browns.

Manager George Sisler started him in a recent game at New York against the world champions. Never having seen Wingard in action, I remarked to Sisler as the rookie was throwing the customary five balls before starting the game: "How has this fellow been going for you?" "He has turned in several nice games," replied Sisler, "looks as if he might make a great pitcher. He has the 'guts of a burglar.'" That is a real compliment in baseball relative to courage.

In the very first inning Wingard made good the opinion Sisler had expressed. With the bases filled and no one out he retired the side without a run. Some feat against the Yankees, with Meusel, Pipp and Ward coming up.

A little later in the game he was up against the same situation and once more he kept the Yankees from scoring. On another occasion, with runners on second and third and one out, the champs looked dangerous. Nothing doing as far as scoring. Wingard stopped 'em.

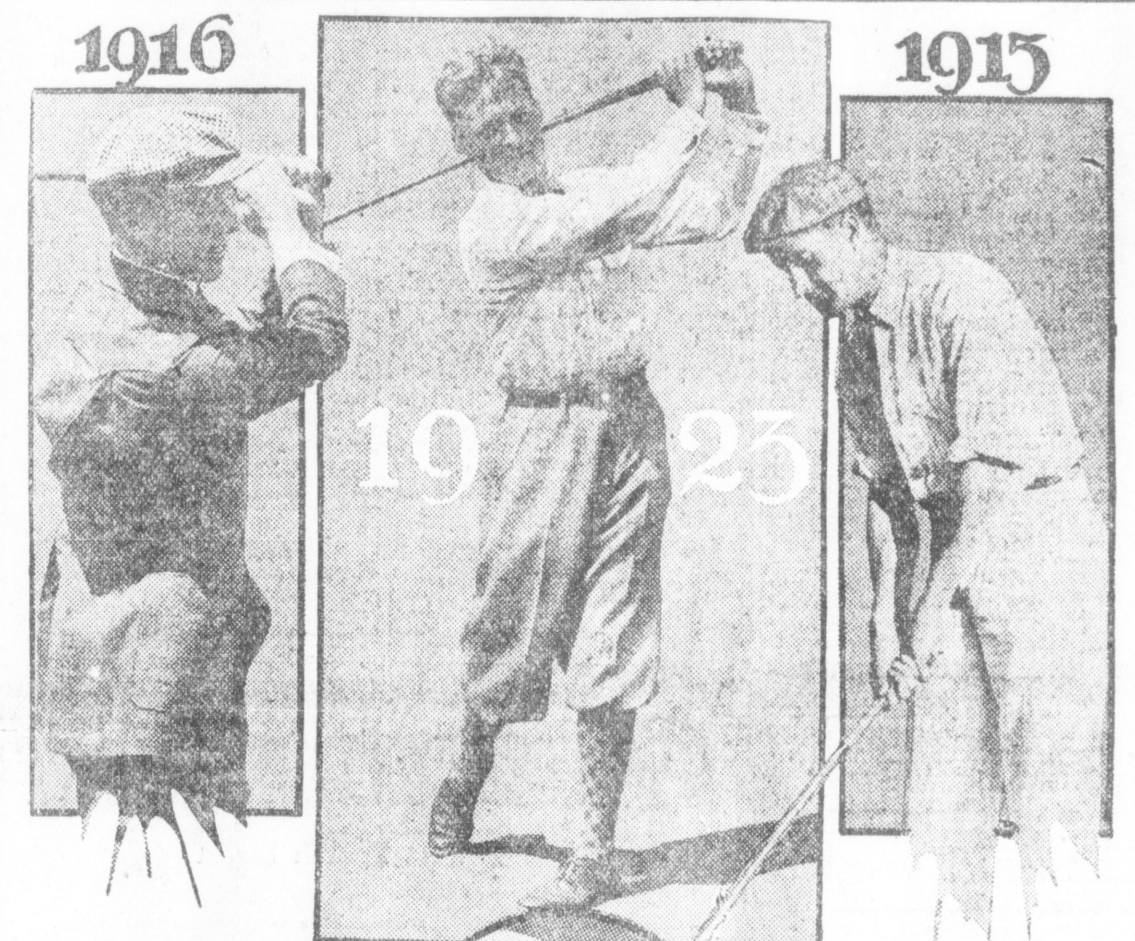

Wingard won his game 2 to 1, a most unusual contest, since the three runs of the game were made on circuit drives. Ruth scored the Yankees' only tally by hitting one into the right field stand.

Wingard's performance against the Yankees is a true test of his mental and physical courage, Manager George Sisler has picked up one of the finds of the year.

Locals Capture First Game But Are Outpointed In Next Two Sessions

An excellent beginning was all that saved the American National Bank's bowling team, champions of the Broadway alleys, from a white-wash last night when it clashed with the Anaheim Mercantiles, the best aggregation in the Mother Colony.

The Santa Ana five, thanks to Richards' 214, captured the initial clatter but fell by the wayside in the second and third encounters. The locals were without the services of "Strike" Warner, their best bowler.

PICK THREE YANKEE OLYMPIC MERMEN

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 6.—One-fourth of the United States Olympic swimming team has been decided here today and another fourth will be chosen before night.

In the play for the open golf championship of America over the Oakland Hills course, Detroit, Bobby Jones of Atlanta, an amateur, is the defending champion.

Jones is the fourth amateur in the history of the game in America to take the field as a defender.

No amateur has ever repeated in the open.

Francis Ouimet of Boston was the first amateur to win the event, the caddy graduate triumphing at Brookline in 1913.

Jerry Travers of New York scored in 1915 at Baltusrol and was the second amateur to achieve the distinction.

Chick Evans of Chicago made it two in a row for the amateurs by winning the championship the following year at Minkabba with a score of 286, a mark which has yet to be equaled.

Jones crashed through last summer at Inwood after a dramatic play-off with Wee Bobby Cruickshank.

Thus four amateurs have stepped in and taken all the glory from the professionals since 1913.

But Jones is the greatest stroke player in the game, bar none, and he figures to be dangerous all the way, tradition or no tradition.

SPORT FLASHES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Johnny Weismuller, winning the 100-meter free style swim in the final Olympic tryouts, broke the Olympic record by one second. Duke Kahanamoku, who made the record at Antwerp in 1920, was second and his brother, Sam, third.

Fights and Fighters

NEW YORK—Tex Rickard's latest announcement regarding Luis Angel Firpo, who changes his mind these days almost as often as he got up from the canvas in that unforgettable first round of his bout with Jack Dempsey, is that the big South American will meet Harry Wills at Boyle's 30 Acres August 23.

OMAHA, Neb.—Promoter Jake Isaacson today offered Mickey Walker a $10,000 guarantee for a welterweight championship fight here July 4 between the champion and Morrie Schlaifer, Omaha.

Pitchers galore were used as Washington and Detroit went round and round in a free hitting contest, the Senators on the long end of a 9 to 7 score.

Victory For Commercials Will Virtually Decide Co. Championship

Sunday's Games
Laguna Beach vs. Santa Ana Commercial Co. at Tustin high school grounds; Van Dien-Young Co. at Irvine, Anaheim, bye.

In every league, every season, comes at least once a really crucial game—a test that often determines which team shall be champion and which runner-up.

That decisive point has been reached in the Orange County Baseball league.

The Santa Ana Commercial company, undefeated leaders of the local circuit, and Laguna Beach, but a game behind, battle Sunday afternoon in what promises to be one of the closest, most bitterly waged struggles in baseball history here.

Will Play At Tustin.
This contest will be played at Tustin—on the high school field there where last Sunday the Commercials whipped Arthur Trickey's Irvine Beaniepickers.

The league closes June 29. Should the Truckmen continue their sensational winning streak at the expense of Joe Sanford's heavy hitting Cavedwellers they will have a two-game lead with but three games left to be played. If Laguna Beach wins, the two teams will be tied for first place.

Laguna Beach entered the loop unheralded and unsung. Wise baseball men predicted the seashore would finish in the rut. But Manager Sanford fooled them all. He built up a formidable team of fielders and stickers and grabbed a splendid pitcher when he signed Jim Ashton.

Going the round of the schedule the first time, the Commercials managed to defeat the Cavedwellers 2 to 1 after a desperately fought engagement. Some said there was a lot of luck attached to the victory. Others held that a good team lost to a better one. Anyway, Sunday's match will tell.

Salveson to Hurl.
Herb Salveson, George Lackaye's burly right hander, was jerked last Sunday when he began to wobble against Irvine and Arch Hawkins had to be rushed in from center field to save the day. It was the first time this season Salveson has been in hot water and big Herb says it will be the last time.

Out of the championship running but still determined to finish well up in the first division, the Irvine Beaniepickers will return to their home park Sunday for the first time in more than two months. Trickey's club will meet the Van Dien-Young company of Santa Ana.

Definite word that the park could be reopened was received by Trickey today from James Irvine, owner of the property, from San Francisco.

The Beaniepickers looked to have clinched Sunday's tilt with the Commercials when without warning they "blew" away a two-run lead in the seventh inning. Trickey is confident his squad will return to their old-time form against the Van Dien-Youngs.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Big Chris Larson, Alaska cannery foreman, seeking for connections for the outside world in a launch, is driven by a storm into a small cove. He and the hard-drinking Remittance Man, whom he had met that evening, are in the cove for the open sea in the cannery launch to answer a distress signal.

The Remittance Man forces Big Chris to put on his sea jacket. The Remittance Man finds comfort in the fact that he cannot return to Dorothy and his home in Georgia, from which he had fled following a tragic launch on the Savannah river. While musing, the ship strikes a reef and he is hurled into darkness.

Dorothy Newhall receives at her home in Alaska, a telegram from Peter Newhall, the son of her late husband.

NOW ON WITH THE STORY
Peter Newhall, the son of her late husband, is found on a beach.

Papers found on dead body of man picked up on beach identify him as Peter Newhall of Augusta, Georgia, though known locally by another name. Death resulted from drowning and mutilation by reefs. He left instructions for immediate burial also that you be notified and personal effects be sent you. These are being forwarded. Body was embalmed and given decent burial by my crew near place of finding. If I can be of any other service please command me.

Captain Johansen, Steamer Norwood.

Just yesterday, it seemed to her, in girlhood, she had tried to imagine how she would receive such news as this—the sudden taking off of some one she loved.

She had loved this man who had died. No one dared deny that. It was true that he had often failed to understand her—that he was careless of her needs, that he had been insanely jealous without cause—but she had loved him and had continued to love him through all those cold, hard weeks before the tragedy, after his drinking had ceased to be a joke to her and her friends and had become a subject avoided in his presence. He had failed to understand her, to recognize the artist-self in her that demanded expression and companionship, yet she had given him her love, her hand, a few of her best years—indeed, all she had to give.

At present it did not occur to her that she had perhaps failed to understand him, too. Such news she had expected in the telegram today, that in spite of Ivan's heroic efforts to cover up the fugitive's tracks, the arm of the law had seized him at last. Ivan had withheld his testimony to the very last, running the risk of being haled into court himself on the charge of assisting a murderer to escape, not telling the tragic story of what he had seen and taken part in on the deck of the motor boat until it was veritably forced from him at the inquiry several days later, but she had not dared to believe that Peter could escape the hue and cry that was subsequently raised.

Dorothy was known, throughout her beautiful resident city, for the unfailing loveliness of her appearance—eyes always bright, cheeks flushed, quaint freckles dainty and fresh, bobbed curls, clustering in dark glory about her head and around her childish, slender neck and throat—but her nearest friends would hardly have known her now. The lovely dulled glow on her brown cheeks had faded, her sensuous mouth was drawn and haggard with agony, her eyes like dark blotches below the brows.

She bowed her lovely, bobbed head into the cushion of the divan, and the blessing of tears was hers at last. The long hours of the afternoon dragged away. She was miserably alone; her mother was out of the city, even old Rose, her colored mammy, did not know of her grief and thus could not come to comfort her; and Ivan—on whom, in these past months, she had begun to lean—was in high communion with the gods at his villa tucked under his clear-cut chin, he practiced lovingly in his studio.

She was aroused at last by the sharp ring of the telephone bell and the shuffling steps of Nora, the second girl, who went to answer it. A moment later the servant came to the doorway.

"He says it's Mista Ishmin," the servant told her stolidly. "He wants to know if you feel like comin' to de phone."

Dorothy hesitated, started to instruct Nora to repeat a message, then got up and went to the phone herself.

"My dear girl, I have just heard the awful news," he began in his gentle, comforting voice.

"I just read it in the papers," he went on, "and I'm wondering if it would make you feel any worse to have me come out—"

"I want you to come very much," she answered simply.

"Perhaps you'd rather wait—I could come out later just as well—you can phone me when you want me," he went on, in his instinctive, well-bred effort to put her at ease. "Perhaps you'd like to be alone for these first hours, but after, later, I can help in any way, I am always ready."

"No, I really want you to come. And bring the Stradivarius, if you will. I think it will help—to hear that."

Ivan hung up, and as she waited for him to come she sent Nora after the latest paper. She had

BRIEF ITEMS OF WESTMINSTER FOLK

WESTMINSTER, June 6.—A corps of workmen are busily engaged in remodeling the school-house here. Two new class rooms are to be built at the front of the building, and a new stairway at the front entrance. Windows are being enlarged at the ends of the building, the old pipe equipment for heating has been torn out, and a new gas heating system will be installed. The entire building will be re-wired, and it will be an inviting place when the youngsters return for the fall term. A kindergarten is badly needed in Westminster, for there is a host of kindies who could use it to good advantage, and if the plans of a few women go through, one will be provided for the fall session.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Carter were Long Beach visitors Tuesday, calling on Mrs. R. M. Cook. Their son, Donald Carter, is spending the week with Herman Johnson at Hemet.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sigler were in Santa Ana on business Monday evening.

The Westminster Boy Scouts are feeling rather inflated since they were presented with a parade size flag Monday night by the Daughters of the Veterans from Fullerton. Mr. Teaney was there and splendidly addressed the boys, gave an exhibition of the thirty-two ways of using a handkerchief for bandaging, and one new member was taken in. But the big time came when, after the meeting, the boys, led by Fred Bassie, slipped up to the front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Conrad, our newlywed couple, and gently serenaded them with tin cans, horns and various noises.

Mrs. James R. Schleber, who taught the third grade for the term just past, will, upon her return in the fall, fill the position of principal. She was selected from a number of others who made application, and there are still some vacancies in the class rooms to be filled.

Mrs. Floyd Morris, accompanied by Mrs. L. E. Amdel of Huntington Beach, attended the luncheon at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles yesterday given by the California women to the visiting clubwomen who are convening there this week.

Mrs. Henry West returned from Redondo Tuesday where she has been visiting Mrs. J. L. Robinson. Monday, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Murdy and children and Mrs. Beatrice Knapp dined in Long Beach and attended the theater afterwards.

Lon Chambers of Huntington Beach, was here on business yesterday.

Mrs. O. J. Day visited her mother, Mrs. J. H. Edwards, in Santa Ana Tuesday, as Mrs. Edwards was ill.

Mrs. K. A. McCoy was in Glen Dale, yesterday.

Mrs. Carl M. Hagen suffered a stroke of paralysis Monday and is critically ill at her home—her many friends are much concerned about her.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Penhall were in Los Angeles Tuesday calling on Mrs. Maude Winton.

Reverend W. T. Wardle left yesterday afternoon on a business trip to Seattle, Wash. He will be absent from his pulpit for about two Sundays, and has secured Reverend F. D. Seward of Los Angeles to take his place on the eighth, while the fifteenth will be given over to the Children's Day program.

The name of Flora M. Pyle, who was appointed Grand Herald by Mrs. Lulu Nankerbis, D. D. Grand President of the Rebekah lodge, was unintentionally omitted from the list given out last week. Mrs. Nankerbis met here for the first time Tuesday night with her newly appointed staff, and encouraging progress was made in the work.

Mrs. M. Hay attended the theater in Long Beach last evening.

Mrs. Laura McCoy and daughters, Edna and Ethel, have vacated the place where they resided.

Two lots were sold a day or so ago in the McCoy tract, one to a Los Angeles party and one to a resident of Orange. R. E. Larter reports that the Lewis property on the boulevard will be sold in a day or two.

Roy Love, who resides about one and a quarter miles west of here, has signed up with an English oil company to go to India as driller; he will stay on here, later, if he decides to stay there long enough to warrant them coming.

W. H. Warner made a business trip to Los Angeles Tuesday.

Citizens here are very much interested in the well on the Walton plate, Rucker No. 1, and although nothing official was given out, it is gathered from parties who know, that there are mighty good indications for oil and lots of it, from this well.

DISABLED VETS ANNUAL MEET PLANNED

SALT LAKE CITY, June 6.—

The "reunion spirit" prevalent at most conventions of veterans, will be notably absent from the fourth annual national convention of Disabled American Veterans which opens here June 23, officials of the organization indicate.

Instead of a celebration, the convention itself will be a grim businesslike session, as in the case of the Detroit, San Francisco and Minneapolis meetings, in which the men almost immediately will settle down to solving the serious problems confronting them and the men in the hospitals and vocational training schools, whom they represent.

This does not mean, say the officials, that the cities which have played host to them have not provided profuse entertainment, nor that the forthcoming convention here is to be a drab affair. Elaborate preparations have been made by local citizens and organizations to entertain the visiting veterans, and a considerable sum of money has been collected for this purpose by committees preparing for their reception.

Meet in Tabernacle

The opening session this time will be held in the great Mormon tabernacle, with its enormous organ, elaborate radio equipment and room for 7000 persons. There will be speeches of welcome by the governor, the mayor and other distinguished Utah citizens, and responses by National Commander James A. McFarland of Dalton, Ga. Past Commander Robert S. Marx of Cincinnati, and Past Commander C. Hamilton Cook of Buffalo. Veterans' organizations will have ranking officers present to extend greetings to the Disabled American Veterans, but if history repeats itself the high spot for the disabled ex-soldier will be the appearance of Mme. Schumann—Heink.

The Disabled American Veterans' convention is a fixture on the annual calendar of this great city. Each year she bears her own expenses to sing for the disabled, and this year she has again accepted an invitation to sing on the opening day. Her songs will not be lost to the men too badly scarred to make the trip, for her voice will be carried by radio to the beds of the men in the hospitals in various parts of the country.

Affording himself the opportunity of personally meeting the greatest body of disabled men that gathers annually, Brigadier-General Frank T. Hines, director of the veterans' bureau, two months ago accepted an invitation to attend. Salt Lake City remembers Frank Hines, national guardsman of a score of years ago. After leaving Utah he steadily rose until during the World War he was in charge of the tremendous task of getting overseas and back home the 2,000,000 men who made the trip. He was decorated by numerous governments for the great achievement and now heads the government agency that annually dispenses more money than any other department.

Men Await Message
While Salt Lake City is anxious to welcome General Hines, there is particular interest in what he will have to say, as he is expected to bring a message that will be of vital interest to the tens of thousands of men who are still carrying the scars of their service.

The convention will last through the whole of the last week in June. During the last year the organization has made marked strides in extension of veteran aid and has become a power in national councils at Washington. Particular interest will attach to the reports of the different chairmen upon the accomplishments in legislation and rehabilitation in the last twelve months.

One of the most impressive features of the Disabled American Veterans' gathering is the ceremonial in remembrance of the dead. As soon as the invocation is pronounced upon the opening day of each convention the whole assemblage turn their thoughts to those who have passed on, and, standing at attention, the halt, and the lame and the blind—the survivors of the great American armies of 1918—remain in silence for one minute. Then will come the all-important task of adopting the legislative program for the next year. The convention annually prepares what is considered a bill of rights, which is the guide of the officers during their term of office. The Disabled American Veterans have influenced the passage of much desirable legislation this year and this month will outline their aims for the next year.

Practical Notes On

S. S. Lesson

BY CAL OGBURN

LESSON FOR JUNE 8, EZEKIEL

34:11-16, 25, 26, EZEKIEL

ENCOURAGES THE

EXILES

"Thus saith the Lord Jehovah:

Behold, I myself, even I, will search for my sheep, and I will seek them out. . . . and I will deliver them out of all places whither they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day."—vs. 11, 12.

There are many ways of estimating a man's value to the community of which he is a part. But there is none better than the test of adversity. What does he say and do, when he and his fellow citizens are overwhelmed by some great calamity? It is at such time that the best there is in a good man and the worst there is in a bad man become evident. Then the hero, moral as well as physical —moral rather than physical—risks to the occasion. The dastard also is revealed. He becomes definitely known, where before he scarcely may have been suspected as to his real character.

By the lurid light of the funeral pyre of the kingdom of Judah

Ezekiel is to be seen—the greatest man of his day. This son of a priest named Buzi was the prophet of hope, when all others were in despair. His moral heroism was of the highest order. He was a true optimist, when there was nothing in evidence to encourage optimism. He was an exile. One among the first to be deported.

He was a member of a Jewish community, composed of captives, that had been established on the banks of the river Chebar in Babylonia. Their national existence was at an end. The land of Judah, from whence they had been taken, was a desolate waste. Jerusalem, the pride of every Jew, was a heap of ruins. The temple had been destroyed.

Nothing remained of all that had been so dear to them. In captivity as they were, how easy and how natural for them to see nothing but the dark side—if indeed there was any other. And what made it all the more bitter, out had brought this awful punishment upon themselves. They had sinned against God—with this indescribable result. Light and knowledge

there had been to guide them, but they refused to be guided.

The prophets whom God had sent to instruct and warn them, they had rejected. And now the worst of all the fates had befallen them.

Moreover the future was as dark and forbidding as the present.

It was to these despairing people, paying the awful penalty of their sinful folly, that Ezekiel spoke. He alone was the prophet of assurance. God had not forgotten them. A shepherd, tenderly seeking the remnants of his flock that wolves had attacked and driven away, God would seek out and deliver his people, though scattered far and wide throughout

Babylonia.

Blessed be Ezekiel!—and those of his class. Heroes of many kinds have been acclaimed, but none greater than Ezekiel. With no effort at all he might have lamented his fate with the rest of the people. Or he might have said, "I warned you of this, but you would not heed the warning."

And had he said this, we would

Newport Beach—Balboa

PLAN CARNIVAL WITH PARADE OF GIRLS

Two Days of Celebration To Precede Annual Sea Queen Strut

BALBOA, June 6.—That the bathing girls parade to be held this year at Newport Beach and Balboa will be the signal for three days of carnival commencing on June 13 and winding up with the stellar event June 15, was the announcement today by Mrs. W. A. Osgood of Balboa, who has charge of the arrangements for the three-day event.

The city council has given the committee permission to rope off the streets in Balboa for the three-day period so that the beach festival can be held without interruption from traffic. It is planned to have music both afternoon and evening and to arrange for attractions that will lead up to the final event Sunday.

In addition to the Orange county girls who will participate in the big bathing review it is planned by Mrs. Osgood to have a score or more girls from Hollywood and other sections of Southern California.

HAITIANS NEED AMERICAN AID, IS CLAIM

LONDON, June 5.—America should send fewer bayonets and more books, fewer soldiers and more salesmen to Haiti, according to Lady Dorothy Mills, one of England's foremost women travelers and explorers, who has just returned from a six months' stay in the Haitian republic.

"Haiti is a country of wonderful fertility," Lady Dorothy said. "It can grow coffee, bananas—anything that can be grown in a climate of that sort. But it grows hardly enough to feed its own population. Except for a few of the more fortunate class the people are poor and there is nothing that resembles national industry as it is known in other countries."

"Perhaps this lack of prosperity is the fault of the Haitians themselves. It is true they are not a practical people and are inclined to be indolent. But they are intelligent, quick to learn and fairly industrious when properly supervised. It seems to me the United States is overlooking a great opportunity in not attempting to educate the Haitians and make them industrially active and prosperous."

"Generally speaking, I found this to be the view of the Haitians themselves. They told me they would like to have more American schools and libraries and would welcome American enterprise in helping them to exploit the resources of their country."

"As things are now American activities in Haiti are confined chiefly to the military occupation of the marines. It is true that under the army officers and engineers a great deal has been done in the way of road building and sanitation. But nothing at all has been done to aid the industrial development of the republic."

"Just to illustrate the extent to which the American military occupation has failed to influence the life or customs of the Haitians, I would point out that very few Haitians speak English, although American soldiers have virtually ruled the islands for years. The official language of the country is French, its newspapers are printed in French, yet the French have had no official standing in the country for a long time. Even the clothes of the Haitian women are French and no woman counts for anything in society unless she gets her gowns from Paris."

"It cannot be said that the American marines in Haiti are popular. As a matter of fact the bulk of the natives detest them and tolerate them only through fear. Many Haitians, influential ones, too, feel that the military force kept there by the United States is larger than is demanded by the exigencies of the situation. They think that Uncle Sam is not so much desirous of maintaining peace in Haiti as he is of maintaining a military foothold in the island that might be strategically valuable in the case of trouble with Japan or any other country."

"From a financial standpoint it would seem to me that it would be worth America's while to aid the industrial development of Haiti. The Haitian government owes the United States a huge sum which it would be able to repay if the country were industrially prosperous, but which it will not be able to pay in a century under present conditions."

"I went to one of the native ceremonies one night," Lady Dorothy said, "and it was all I could do to keep from jumping up and dancing with the natives, who were leaping around in their bare feet on beds of glowing embers. As a matter of fact, the man who accompanied me, a Frenchman who had spent years in the island, forgot himself and the first I knew he was dancing about as joyously as any of the natives. The difference was that he had shoes on and the embers were not scorching his feet as they were those of the natives."

The barbarous ceremonies that once were practiced in Haiti have largely disappeared, Lady Dorothy said.

GOOD INDUSTRIAL YEAR IS PREDICTED AT COUNTY PORT; BUILDING STARTS OFF WELL

NEWPORT BEACH, June 5.—With building permits of an even $250,000 since the first of the year and more than 94 per cent of the city taxes collected one of the best years in its history is predicted for the Newport Harbor district. At the last meeting of the city council Tax Collector J. A. Porter submitted his report which showed that $172,312.24 out of a total of $183,626.48 which had been levied for the district had been collected. The report of the collector showed that a balance of $11,314.24 remained to be collected and that unless this amount was paid this week the amount would be declared delinquent. The building permits which have been the largest in a six month period in the history of the city were about equally distributed between Newport, East Newport and the Balboa district.

L. A. PORT MEN INTERESTED IN HARBOR

NEWPORT BEACH, June 6.—Considerable interest attaches to an invitation received from the Los Angeles harbor commission for the leading citizens of Orange county to make a trip of inspection over their harbor in order to become more conversant with the details of a great port in order to aid the development of Orange county's harbor. As a result of this invitation the directors of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce are arranging for sending 150 people to San Pedro and Wilmington on either June 18 or 19. The start will be made from Newport proper on the Pacific Electric, in special cars at 1 p. m. The party will be taken to Wilmington to the dock of the harbor commission and from there will embark on a two-hour trip over the Los Angeles harbor, returning to Wilmington at 4:40 and to Newport by 6 p. m. The fare on the train will be $1.10 and the Harbor Chamber should be notified at once as to who desires to go, as the number is limited to 150.

It is planned to have citizens from all parts of Orange county on the trip. This includes people from Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, Huntington Beach, La Habra, Placentia, etc. Nothing could be more indicative of the spirit of the Los Angeles harbor workers to work with Orange county in the development of this project, than the effort to show the citizens of this county how a big harbor operates. Much valuable data can be secured by our citizens, especially the Committee of Fifty, in making its report on Newport harbor.

The committee in charge of the affair is as follows: J. P. Greeley, R. G. Chambers, J. A. Beek, Dr. C. Richter, F. L. Rinehart, George Neill, Guy W. Higbey.

COMMITTEES OF LEAGUE REPORT

NEWPORT BEACH, June 6.—The last meeting for the year of the Woman's Civic League of Newport was held this week at the home of Mrs. W. W. Brown in East Newport. The reports of committee showed that the club had enjoyed an excellent year and had many constructive plans for the betterment of the beach cities next year. The following officers and committees were named for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. A. J. Garfield; first vice president, Mrs. George Robertson; second vice president, Mrs. P. T. Hannigan; secretary, Mrs. Emily L. Jarvis; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. W. Summers; treasurer, Mrs. W. W. Brown; Mrs. L. I. Garriques, Mrs. Leo Goepfer; membership, Miss Lillian B. Matheson, Mrs. Lillian Sloan, Mrs. L. L. Garriques; auditing, Mrs. Botsford, Mrs. L. Richards; historian, Mrs. E. L. Jarvis; parliamentarian, Mrs. W. W. Brown; library, Mrs. W. Gosier; legislative, Mrs. Belle A. Smith; Mrs. R. H. Somers; house committee, Mrs. A. W. Jackson, Mrs. Eugene Reber and Mrs. Beatty; ways and means, Mrs. Dan Sullivan.

Pets Shouldn't Be Taken Into Hills, Advice

Although there are no foot and mouth disease guards in the mountains in Orange county, A. A. Brock, county horticultural commissioner, today advised persons not to take dogs and cats with them on their outings. "We have no laws forbidding the taking of dogs and cats into the mountains," Brock said, "but there is always the possibility of a new outbreak and in that case, all animals in the infected districts would be killed at the time the area is quarantined."

"If persons would keep their dogs tied, I don't see any reason why the animals couldn't be taken into the hills. Many, however, would not take this precaution so we make the statement that the taking of dogs into the hills is not advised by this office."

SWIMMER TO TRY LONG SEA JAUNT

NEWPORT BEACH, June 6.—An interesting event will be held here Sunday when J. E. Tucker of Fort Worth, Texas, one of the entrants in the annual swim to Catalina Island will stage a practice swim from Newport Beach five miles to sea and return. Tucker will be paced by local men in row boats. Tucker has a score or more of medals for his swims at many of the Pacific Coast Beaches.

From a Castle to the Gutter! COFFEE! Strong and Black!

We buy only the HIGHEST GRADES of green coffee. Then to insure the utmost in FRESHNESS, we roast only a two days' supply at a time. Next we BLEND our coffees following a formula furnished us by an expert who has had probably the widest experience in coffee roasting on the entire Pacific Coast.

The real FLAVOR of coffee comes from the highly volatile oils contained in the coffee bean which are brought out by proper roasting. It is a well known and accepted fact that coffee after it has been ground is continually losing these essential oils with a resultant loss in FLAVOR. To reduce this loss to a minimum we grind the coffee for you while you wait.

Last but far from least we then place the ground coffee in a paper bag with the suggestion that it be transferred to a metal or glass receptacle with a tight-fitting cover upon arriving home. These paper bags cost us approximately $1.50 per thousand and the difference in cost between a paper bag and a comparatively expensive can is given to you in the quality of the coffee.

EVENING SALUTATION

But every house where Love abides,
And Friendship is a guest,
Is surely home, and home, sweet home;
For there the heart can rest.

—Henry Van Dyke.

HAVE CONFIDENCE

"Business as usual" in Santa Ana means good business, and it is gratifying to note that we are rapidly getting back to that much desired condition, after a brief period of comparative depression, almost entirely due to "a state of mind." Bankers and merchants generally agree that "business is picking up," and with the possible exception of building activity we shall undoubtedly soon be in our normal stride, which is always long and strong. Continued quietude in building for a few months is probably and properly inevitable, as the natural and healthy reaction after a period of abnormal activity. But that building also will soon "come back" is evidenced by the fact that it continues healthily active locally, and in the country at large is going strong, as disclosed by reports from reliable authorities in all of the principal cities of the country, notwithstanding the mental hydrophobia which seems to be affecting as many people as the hoof-and-mouth disease affected livestock. There never was a better time to build than at present, all things considered, and it is gratifying to know that permits issued and applications filed during the past month in the leading cities of the United States aggregate $237,501,200, as against $264,024,000 for April a year ago, a decrease of only 10 per cent.

"Statistics compiled by our organization, and checked against figures from the most reliable sources in all of the leading cities of the country, including New York, Detroit, Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles, present conclusive evidence that the existing stagnation in various lines of business and industry is due entirely to peculiar psychological reactions," said Logan Loughborough, statistician and consulting engineer for the Prudential Engineering company, of Los Angeles, at a luncheon talk made to a large number of the company's clients, and representing practically every line of business in the city. "Commercial failures throughout the country have involved considerably less in money, and have been fewer in number than a year ago," he added, "and although the retail sales reported are much less in volume than at this time last year, jobbers generally, except in certain lines, are experiencing no decline in the volume of orders received" indicating entire confidence in the future on the part of retail merchants and business men.

THE LAST PARLIAMENT

"Italy is beginning her very last parliamentary experiment," say Premier Mussolini. This is not a prophecy but a threat. What the Black Shirt leader means, apparently, is that if the Italian Parliament fails to do what he thinks it should, he will kick it out and get along without it. Then, instead of representative government, actual or pretended, there will be frank absolute government.

This is what happened in Italy about 2,000 years ago. Julius Caesar was some such man as Mussolini, though bigger-brained and softer-spoken. He reduced the Roman Senate to a rubber stamp. And after him came a long succession of emperors, pretending to rule according to the established law but actually making what law they liked as they went along.

Yet that did not last forever. Italy eventually tired of tyranny and became a group of free republics, with genuinely representative government again. Finally came the modern constitutional monarchy that allows a Mussolini to rise from nothing to supreme power.

It is easy for any man "clothed with a little brief authority" to mistake the importance of himself and his ideas. Mussolini has done an excellent work in suppressing Bolshevism in Italy and restoring material prosperity. But his authority and his ideas will not endure forever. There will be many a free Parliament in Italy after his brief period of power. Even Red Flag and Black Shirt czars do not last long nowadays.

OLD STORY IS RE-TOLD

A sea captain drifted into an American port the other day with a new yarn.

"The chart," he said, "put us in the Palawan passage, off the southern end of the island of Palawan, in the Philippines. We were supposed to have plenty of room. But as sure as you're sitting there, dead ahead were eight floating islands, the largest more than seven acres in extent. We checked our instruments to make sure they moved. We passed one less than 50 feet to starboard, and monkeys up in the trees heaved coconuts at us. It was a ticklish moment, with those islands moving at us and drifting together."

A good sea tale, but old stuff! When Homer composed the Odyssey, some 3,000 years ago, he told of the Symplegades, at the entrance from the Black Sea into the Bosphorus, which rushed together to crush the Argonauts, as they sailed through on their quest for the Golden Fleece. And it was an old yarn then. But that is all right. Sea life is conservative. And the best yarns are the oldest.

After Gary has called the President "our Gibraltar," Mr. Coolidge might describe Gary as "our steel reinforcement."—Philadelphia Record.

PROFITLESS GOLD

The Federal Reserve system was criticised in its early years because it was making money. The critics insisted that the federal banking system was never intended for profit. There is no more of such criticism. The system lately is unable to earn expenses.

The reason for that would have been incredible a few years ago. The system is choked with gold. It has so much gold, over and above its requirements, that it cannot get rid of the stuff according to any existing method. The surplus metal is not earning its keep.

The facts of the situation explain what is a mystery to many people. Everyone knows there is a huge gold surplus, that the country's money supply is almost limitless. Citizens are often surprised and annnoyed, then, when they apply to their banks for loans on real estate and other solid security, to find that the banks have no funds to lend them. The bankers are obliged to explain that they can only obtain funds from the vast store in the Federal Reserve vaults by turning over first-class collateral of a liquid nature—bonds, standard stocks, commercial paper, etc. And their own supply of such collateral is limited. The Federal Reserve cannot accept "frozen" securities, and so its own money remains frozen.

There are two possible ways, bankers say, by which this situation could be relieved. But either has its dangers. One is to send gold back to Europe—which is harder than it sounds. The other is to "loosen up" on domestic loans.

Money sent to Europe might be lost. Money poured into American loans might start a new inflation.

Since the Republicans have the elephant for an emblem, and the Democrats the donkey, the third party should adopt the monkey.—Pittsburgh Gazette Times.

Brother Bryan There

San Bernardino Sun.

William Jennings Bryan expects to be at the convention, which meets in Madison Square Garden early in July. It might be well for the gentlemen who are busy preparing for this event to remember that Brother Bryan is coming. Always a fighter, the Commoner has his fighting clothes on most of the time these days. When he is not battling with evolution, he is busy pummeling the "wets." Moreover, Bryan never appears at a better advantage than at the big quadrennial "pow-wow" of his party. One does not have to wear a prophet's mantle to predict that any attempt to nominate a moist candidate in the New York convention will be the occasion for the most glorious fight in Bryan's long fighting career.

Franklin D. Roosevelt is an exceedingly busy man these days booming Governor Al Smith for President. We have a suspicion that Mr. Roosevelt's dreams are troubled these nights, and that occasionally he has a nightmare in which he sees the specter of the fighting face of W. J. B. and awakens to find himself in a cold, clammy sweat.

Yes, Brother Bryan will be there! And in his hand will be the leading strap of the Dark Horse he will hope to nominate.

Changes In France

Long Beach Press

It does not yet appear just what the nature of the new government in France will be. But there is relief on both sides of the Atlantic that M. Poincare is out of the premiership and that M. Millerand is to resign the presidency. Whoever may succeed, under the auspices of the "left"—or radical—group in the French Parliament, there is fair assurance that the cause of peace and good will in Central Europe will be fostered better under the new regime than it has been under Premier Poincare and President Millerand.

It will be a blessed thing for France, for Europe and for the world to have a new order of things in the government at Paris. The passions and animosities of World War days should pass from governmental circles in Europe. The breaches should be healed. Peace should be promoted in such way as to make for tranquility and security permanently on the continent that for centuries has been the prey of militarism and the theater of the bloodiest conflicts in the history of mankind.

Keep Our Powder Dry

Fresno Republican

To be consistent in one's opinions about war is just as difficult as in any other line. And just as shortsighted.

So the club women of California are against "war." But they show also that they are for it, on occasion. They believe in going into the world court, but with open eyes. Cannon are barred, but side arms to be carried. Perhaps a skilled user of words can mix us up about the distinction between self defense and offensive warfare. But why be worried about that? Every human being, every animal, in fact, knows the difference, although perhaps not always interested in naming the distinction.

Let's admire the courage of conviction of the club women of California. They are for reasonable progress in fighting war. And they are not going to be drawn into logical difficulties in making their fight.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

A CRITICAL AGE.

You hear so much about foods, about their value in calories or heat, and about the truth that your body is just what food makes it. Further, thousands of babies are being saved these days, during the hot months of summer, by scientific feeding. Now I've often felt that the same thought and care should follow us all through life. Naturally you don't want to be bothered thinking about it as you get older, and can use your "reason."

However, what about your youngster that is past the baby stage, but hasn't acquired his "sense" regarding his daily food supply? Remember his food requirements are just as important as that of a babe. He needs food to give him heat and energy, food for his growing body, and food to repair the tissues he wears out in his play. You repair or darn the parts of his clothing he wears out, and the body demands the same attention. I don't want to bother you with any set system of diet for the youngster, but you should see to it, that in an average day's meal certain food stuffs are used.

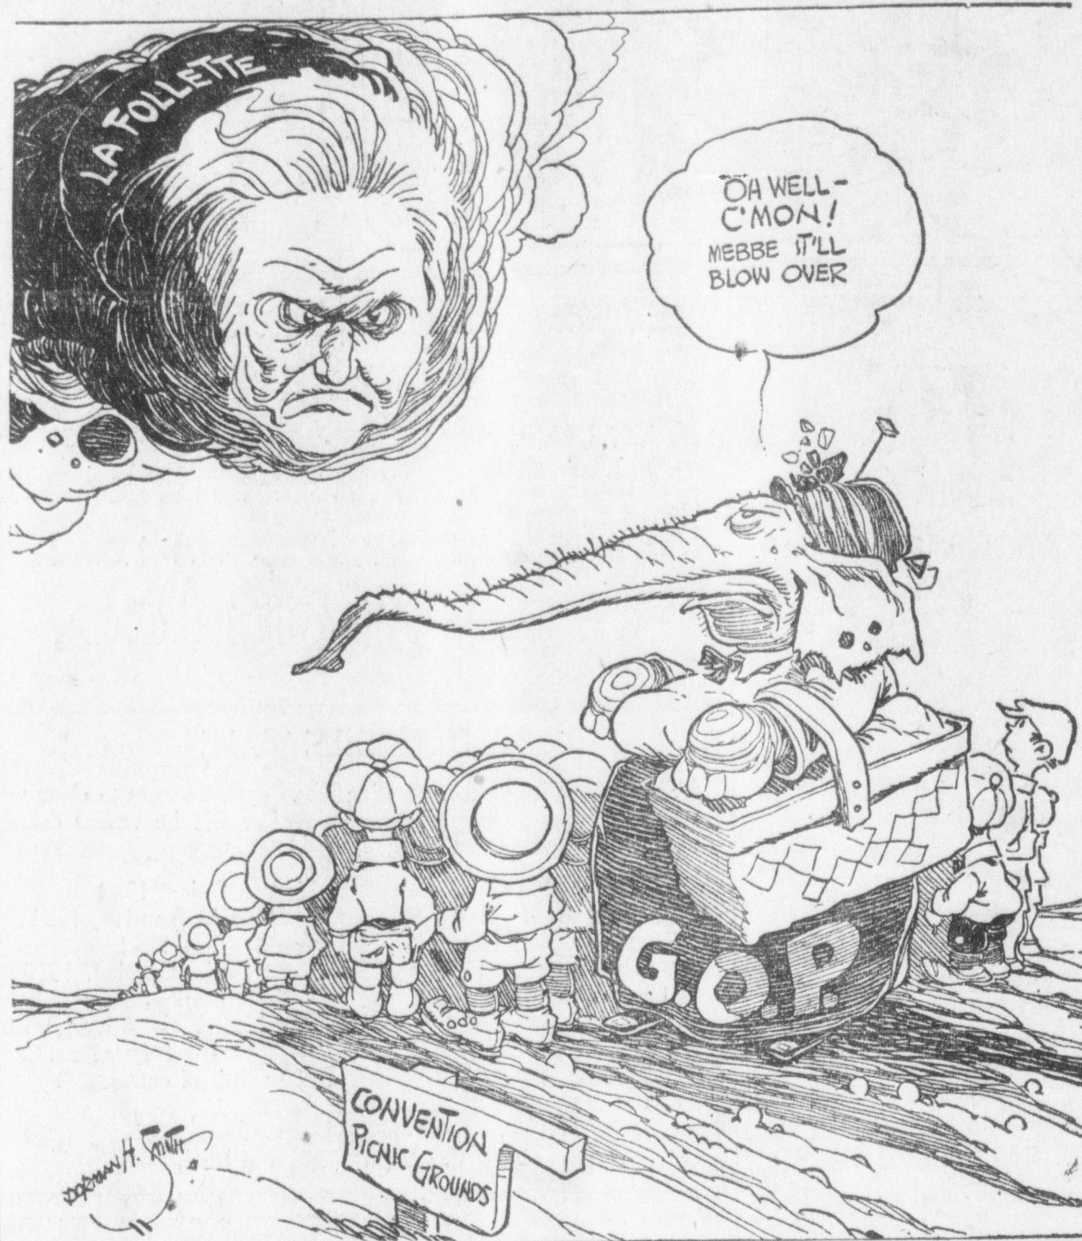

Remember, in a growing youngster your chief reliance should be on fresh pure milk. It contains all five classes of food and is therefore called the perfect food. However you need more than milk, and every form of food stuff will be found in your custards, puddings, or other desserts.

An egg a day with the younger children, and meat once a day with the older ones is absolutely essential. Nothing quite repairs worn out tissue like eggs or meat. Vegetables are essential, and in addition to the potatoes, at least one other vegetable should be used daily, a green vegetable if possible, such as lettuce, onions, or celery.

Also fruit once a day is necessary. So many youngsters like raw fruits that if they agree, they should be used. However, many of the little skin eruptions, itches, pimples, and "gas" in the stomach follow the use of raw fruits with young children. Stewed fruits are always safe, and can therefore be more generally used. Sugar—how the youngsters do love sugar. Let them have it in any form they wish to use it.

Bread is a splendid food, and must be used. The whole wheat bread is safer, and with its use there is less gas pain down low in the abdomen. Butter is a good food. The old fashioned slice of bread thick with butter and brown sugar over that, is all right just after school. Use no set system of meals, but see that the children get the all round diet as outlined.

Picnic Weather

EPITHALAMIUM

I saw two clouds at morning,
Tinged by the rising sun,
And in the dawn they floated on,
And mingled into one;
I thought that morning cloud was bless'd,
It moved so sweetly to the west.

I saw two summer currents
Flow smoothly to their meeting,
And join their course, with silent force,
In peace each other greeting;
Calm was their course through banks of green,
While dimpling eddies play'd between.

Such be your gentle motion,
Till life's last pulse shall beat;
Like summer's beam, and summer's stream,
Float on, in joy, to meet
A calmer sea, where storms shall cease—
A purer sky, where all is peace.

—John G. C. Brainard.

Worth While Verse

(The author of the following verses, the late Mrs. Henrietta Jewett Keith (who died some ten days or two weeks ago), was well known in Santa Ana, where she made frequent long visits at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. M. Davis, 129 West Eighteenth street. The verses appeared originally in The Nation and were reprinted in the May 31st issue of the Literary Digest, from which they are here reproduced. The Chicago Madrigal Club has offered a prize of $100 to the composer of the best musical setting for these verses.)

MAY COMES LAUGHING

May comes laughing o'er the hills,
Apron full of posies,
Columbine and daffodils;
Leaves to June her roses;
Stands on tiptoe, so to reach
Laurel boughs and branch of peach;
Hangs a mist of rose on each,
Naught cares May for throbs and thrills—
Leaves to June her roses.

May comes stepping 'cross the fields,
Scattering her posies
From her apron's store that yields
Ladies-locks and meadow rue,
Buttercups all drenched with dew.
June waits back, with haughty air,
Not a button does May care—
June may have her roses.

May comes singing through the woods,
Planting thick her posies,
Violets in their purple hoods,
Bloodroot wrapped in leafy snoods;
Searches under leaves and mold;
Mayflowers pink disclose;
Thrills a careless roundelay—
All the world's in love with May—
June may have her roses.

—Henrietta Jewett Keith.

Blow to Education

Los Angeles Saturday Night

Without questioning the avenues by which Attorney General Webb reached the decision that the Bible cannot legally be read in the public schools of California, the conclusion is inevitable that a literary loss so profound—wholly aside from the spiritual—to the children of the public school age is little short of colossal. It was Macaulay, in his essay on John Dryden, who described the English Bible as a book which, if everything else in our language should perish, would alone suffice to show the whole extent of its beauty and power. Yet because, forsooth,—on the declaration of the attorney general—it is illegal to read this literary masterpiece in our public schools, even without comment, the children, in many instances, will remain ignorant of the inspiring messages with which this work abounds. The pity of it!

In the same breath, almost, that Daniel Webster thanked God he was American—in his address on the laying of the corner stone of the Bunker Hill monument, in 1825—the famous orator told his hearers that whatever makes good Christians, makes them good citizens, remarking, incidentally, that the Bible is a book of faith, as well as a book of doctrine, a book of morals, and a book of religion. Ergo, a direct means, through its study, to the making of good citizens. Yet this desirable consummation will be rendered that much less attainable because of the interdiction announced and as for the literary beauties, and other factors for the best development of the immature mind, they are held taboo.

Perhaps, the attorney general is proud of the legal acumen that has evolved this decision. Maybe the state constitution is to blame, although it is difficult to point to the definite inhibition, but, then, the layman's mind is less prone to find interpretations, where none offers, than the legal quid nunc.

Of course, a state legislature could apply the remedy that would unchain the Book of Books, but who expects politicians these days to do the right or the courageous thing? No, the Word of God that has been translated into 180 languages, which has been the splendid possession of the English race since 1380, when John Wycliffe made the first complete translation, is barred from the educational system of California by the dictum of the attorney general, who rules that it is illegal to read it in our public schools. It is a reversion to the days when the one Bible in the parish was chained to the lectern, secured by a stout lock, for fear of thieves. There are Bibles a-plenty, but the lock is turned on them in our public schools and Attorney General Webb holds the master key.

Export Record

Leading all but five states, California stands sixth in the government's new and novel record of the value of exports from the different states prepared under the supervision of Julius Klein, director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, under Secretary Hoover.

California's record, with the exception of Louisiana, its nearest rival, is several million dollars better than that of forty-six other states and regions shown. New York leads all the states, followed by Texas, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and New Jersey in the order named. Nevada brings up the rear with exports worth $61,379.

Overseas shipments from Washington, D. C., were worth $193,858.

The commerce department's books give California's exports a value of $51,196,442 for the first three months of 1924. New Jersey, next above, is listed at $57,227,768, and Louisiana, next below, at $52,875,782, followed by Michigan, $46,585,997, then Virginia, $44,321,813.

Mineral oils valued at $16,604,414, heads the state's list. Shipments of dried fruits are valued at $6,504,736; canned fruits, $3,963,517; canned fish, $2,316,800; oranges, $1,665,299; barley grain, $1,339,604; raw cotton, $2,547,989; lumber, $1,262,816; milk, $863,634, etc.—Redlands Facts.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 22—MRS. WOODCHUCK MAKES MUSH

"Please give me ten cents worth of corn meal," said Mrs. Woodchuck, waddling into the little store in the woods.

"Here's a nice package already put up, and it's just 10 cents."

"Then I'll take it," said Mrs. Woodchuck. "Those children of mine have such big appetite I can't tell them. I'm going to fatten them up and then let them seek their own fortunes in the world. Corn meal, I hear, is very good. I read it in the newspaper last night."

So away waddled Mrs. Woodchuck carrying her corn meal under her arm.

"I'll make a lot and it will last awhile," she remarked to herself when she got home, and putting on her kitchen apron she got out the biggest kettle she could find.

Indeed it was so big that the groundhog lady made her apple butter in it in the fall, and she also used it for making bread each week.

And indeed it was whispered around through the Green Woods and the Meadow, that on wash days the neighbors heard Mrs. Woodchuck getting out her big kettle and putting it away again. Do you suppose she could have used it for a wash-tub, too?

Well, anyway, she hauled out her great big kettle and filled it with water and put it on the stove and when it started to boil, she slowly stirred in the whole 10-cent box of corn meal.

Pretty soon the corn meal began to swell, and it went blup, blup, making big bubbles on top that burst with a splash as much as to say, "Stand away, everybody, we need more room."

Mrs. Woodchuck began to notice that the mush was clear up to the top of the kettle and running over the edge.

"My, my, I'll have to get another kettle!" she cried. "If I don't I'll have corn-meal-mush all over my clean stove."

So she laded out about half the kettleful into another pan and then she had two kettles on the stove.

Blup, blup, blup! they went, the two kettles of mush did, and the first thing she knew, the mush was up to the top of both of them, and starting to boil over like everything.

"Oh, Wally, run and borrow Mrs. Bunny's kettle. Hurry!" cried Mrs. Woodchuck, or my stove will be ruined."

So away went Wally and came back with Mrs. Bunny's kettle.

Mrs. Woodchuck laded out the mush into Mrs. Bunny's kettle was full, too. And then there were three kettles on the stove boiling and getting blup, blup, blup, all over everything.

"My, my! I never knew that corn meal swelled up so," cried Mrs. Woodchuck. "Why, I do believe it's still rising. I'll have to get another kettle. Wobbly, run and get Mrs. Muskrat's kettle at once."

Wobbly did. But still it was not enough. And before the afternoon was over, Mrs. Woodchuck had every kettle in the Green Woods and the Meadow full of mush. And not only the stove but the tables and sink and chairs were covered.

And there were pans to set it out in to cool. They had to be borrowed, too.

Such a time! And such a lot of mush! Mrs. Woodchuck couldn't turn her children out into the world at all after that. She had to keep them at home all summer to eat up the mush.
